

'Proper use' near on FBI information

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said Tuesday he will in the near future "make proper use" of detailed information supporting the demand that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover resign or be fired.

In a statement elaborating on his House speech Monday accusing the FBI of wiretapping the telephones of members of Congress have reported to me their firm conviction that their telephone conversations and activities are the subject of surveillance by the FBI."

He said a recent poll of public figures disclosed that "fully one-quarter reported they have reason to suspect their phones were tapped."

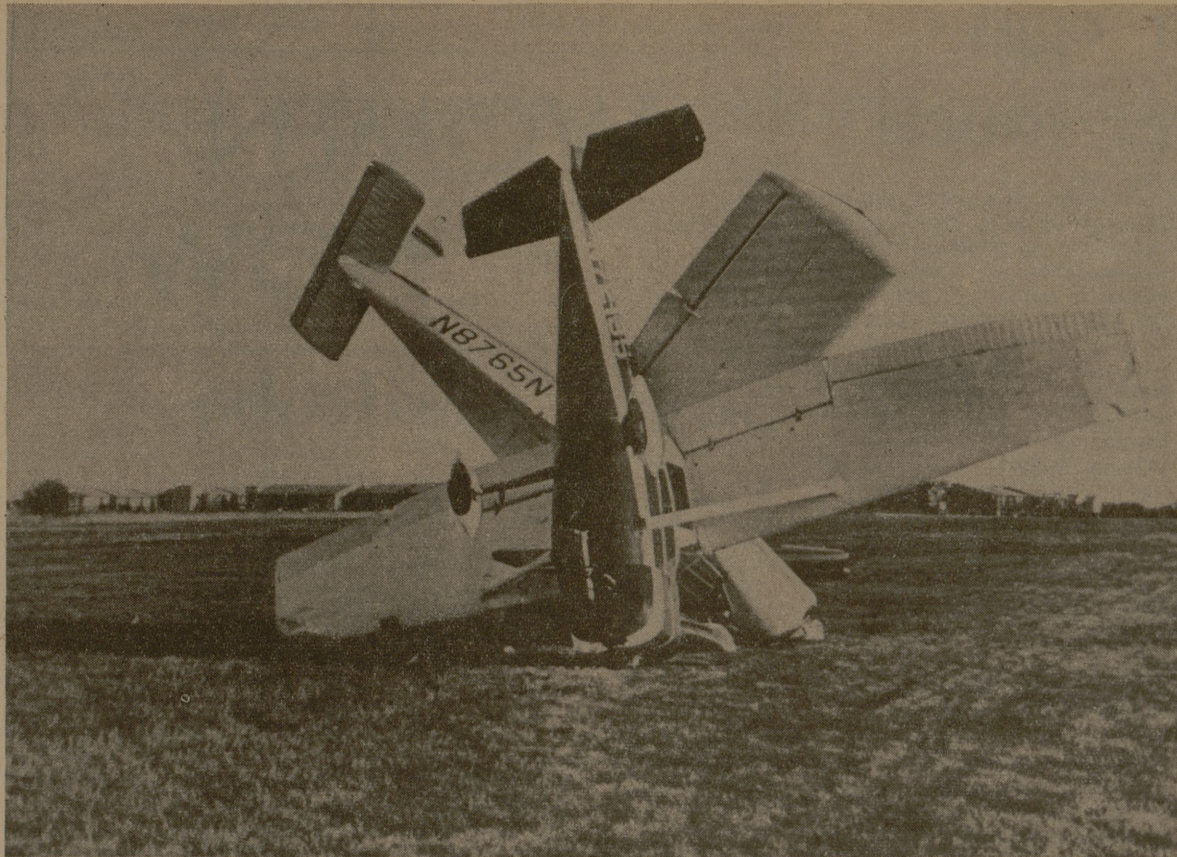

But Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said he had been asured by Hoover that the director had never ordered wire-tapping or surveillance of any member of Congress.

Boggs read this prepared statement over radio and television and declined to elaborate on the prepared text.

Boggs' original allegation of wiretapping of Congress member's phone drew prompt denials from the FBI and the attorney general. These denials were backed Tuesday by the White House.

Boggs referred Tuesday to Hoover as "a man whose fairness and patriotism are unquestionable" but whose judgment "may be clouded by age." Boggs added there is a "possibility that the heir to this unchecked power may lack his judgment and fairness."

TOGETHERNESS, too much of it, was the scene at Dalls' airport when two planes, each carrying an instructor and student, collided and locked together about 20 feet above the runway as they were attempting to land. The instructors and students were unharmed. Flyers consider a good landing one they can walk away from, but this may be stretching it. (AP Wirephoto)

Army's 'obituary' rerun by request

AUSTIN (AP) — The Austin Statesman reprinted Tuesday, "by popular request," an editorial first published the day after the conviction of Lt. William Calley Jr.

The editorial, "Death Comes to the U.S. Army," was written by Austin American-Statesman state editor and military editor Nat Henderson, a Marine overseas veteran of World War II.

Henderson has received hundreds of letters and telephone calls from all over the nation, many requesting reprints of his editorial, the Austin American-Statesman said. Extra copies were made of the reprint Tuesday to satisfy continued demand for the editorial, the paper said.

Here is Henderson's editorial: "Obituary. "U.S. Army. "The U.S. Army, mortally wounded at May Lai on March 16, 1968, died Monday at the age of more than 194 years at Ft. Benning, Ga.

"Survivors include three brothers, the U.S. Air Force, the U.S. Navy and the U.S. Marine Corps. However, all may be suffering from the same affliction to which the Army succumbed.

"The mother also survives, but she is left without visible means of support.

"The Army was preceded in death by discipline, obedience, pride, honor, sacrifice and patriotism.

"They have been succeeded by anarchy, civil disobedience, shame, defeat, selfishness and apathy.

"The death was announced by a general court martial of six men. Funeral rites apparently will be pending for a number of months while the relatives are being returned from Vietnam for the final interment.

"Pallbearers will include Senators Fulbright, Kennedy and McGovern.

"Officiating at the funeral rites will be recent justices of the U.S. Supreme Court and the heads of state of the Soviet Union, North Vietnam and Red China.

"All members of the funeral procession have not been determined, but honorary pallbearers will include moratorium marchers.

"In lieu of flowers, mourners may send old campaign ribbons and victory medals from the Korean conflict, the Berlin airlift, World Wars I and II, the Spanish-American War and other skirmishes which the nation attempted to win.

"Burial will be in the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Legislators seek end to pledge system

AUSTIN (AP)—Two state representatives proposed major changes Tuesday in the way a House speaker is chosen, including abolition of advance pledges to vote for a speaker candidate.

Reps. Curtis Graves of Houston and Lane Denton of Waco filed the resolution for introduction in the House.

Graves said he might attempt to force floor action on the measure if the resolution has not been approved by a committee in a week.

Candidates for speaker traditionally have distributed pledge cards to get members' written promises to vote for them in future races. House Speaker Gus Mutscher claims he has over 100 pledges of support for reelection in 1973. Some have pledged to support Mutscher even in 1975 if he wants to run. A number of members, however, say they intend to repudiate their pledges after the legislative session adjourns.

The Graves-Denton resolution says the pledge card system "creates a repressive situation which prevents each member of this House from representing the people of his district and from exercising his independent judgment on issues of crucial importance to the people of Texas.

"This system has been developed and perfected by powerful special-interest groups for the sole purpose of establishing and maintaining control of the House," the measure declares.

Debate team takes fourth at SWC meet

The Texas A&M Debate Team Saturday took fourth place honors at the Southwest Conference Debate Tournament at Baylor University.

Freshmen Barbara Sears, biology major from Columbia, Mo. and Sheila Wilson, Houston political science major, combined talents to win second place in the affirmative division.

In the negative division two sophomores captured fourth place—Layne Kruse, political science major from McGregor, and economics major Scott Scherer from El Paso.

A&M's debate coach is Robert C. Leitz, of the English Department.

The overall placement is determined by the total ballots cast by individual judges for the teams.

The University of Texas placed first, with Texas Tech taking second and Baylor third.

The team's fourth place is the best A&M has done in debate since the mid-50's. The team plans to improve and prepare for a better season next year when A&M hosts the Southwest Conference Debate Meet.
