

Hurlers star as Ags set win mark

By CLIFFORD BROYLES
The Texas Aggie pitching staff took a bow while the more renowned Aggie hitters kept their usual pace in doubleheader action Thursday and Tuesday as the team set a record for most wins in a season by an Aggie baseball team, 26.

The Aggies tantalized St. Mary's University 3-2 and 2-0 Thursday in San Antonio and then tied and broke the win mark with a 5-1 and 6-1 sweep of the University of Houston.

Coach Tom Chandler, giving all his pitchers a chance to work in the nonconference games, used three pitchers in each of the four contests as the Aggies built their record to 26-3 with their second longest winning streak of the season, 8.

Coach Chandler was in much pain and said Tuesday that if he didn't feel any better Wednesday he would go ahead with an operation which he had hoped to postpone until the end of the season.

The highlights of the pitchers' series were the second games in each twinbill.

Against the Cougars, Charlie Jenkins faced the minimum nine batters for three innings, allowing only a walk but having the runner doubled up on a ground ball.

Then Jackie Binks came on and allowed only one runner in three frames but that runner, Larry Martin, slapped a 3-2 fast ball over the left field fence. Bruce Katt finished up allowing only two walks as the Aggie three-some posted a one-hitter and faced only 30 men.

In Thursday's second game Jenkins and Binks were both responsible as Jenkins allowed only two singles and struck out five in three innings before Binks retired nine men in a row and also recorded five strikeouts. Pat Jamison finished up, allowing only a two-out walk in the seventh that snapped a string of 15 consecutive batters retired by Aggie pitchers.

In the first game, slated for seven innings, the Aggies and Rattlers battled through the regular period with a 2-2 as Bruce Katt had been touched for both runs and Charlie Kelley fired three scoreless innings. Then Paul Czerwinski finished up with three scoreless frames and freshman third baseman Jimmy Hacker won it with a screaming double over the center that scored Chris Sans, who had singled.

Czerwinski and Kelley allowed only three singles between them in the final six innings.

In the second St. Mary's contest Carroll Lilly provided the offensive support with an rbi double in the second and then scored the second run in the seventh on a single by Ab Jenkins.

In the first Houston game, Czerwinski, Kelley and Jamison combined for a four-hitter, with Jamison being tagged for a run and three of the hits in two frames, while Kelley had two perfect innings and Czerwinski allowed only one single.

Aggie hitters managed only 16 hits in the St. Mary's doubleheader as they were stymied by a tough pitching combo in Florencia Pena and Jim Grotta and a hard wind that played havoc with everything hit.

But the Aggie bats returned to normal in the perfect climate Tuesday as they ripped out 21 hits in the two games but dropped their team average point to .311.

Jim Sampson, Hodge, Lilly and Dave Elmendorf provided the power show as Sampson had a pair of doubles and a home run, Hodge and Lilly a double and three singles each and Elmendorf a double, single and homer.

The return of Elmendorf to the lineup was a welcome sight for the Aggies. The Houston senior hit the ball well against St. Mary's but luck found him 0 for 6 after the day's work. His 3 for 7 and three rbi's against the Cougars left no doubt that he has his batting eye back and just in time for Texas Tech.

Injuries hamper Aggie Trackmen

By JOHN CURYLO
Assistant Sports Editor
The list of absentees was long and distinguished, and the Rice Owls couldn't have been happier, winning a quadrangular meet in Houston last Saturday.

The Aggies ran without seniors Rockie Woods and Curtis Mills, junior Frank Ybarbo, and freshman Gary West, and Don Kellar ran only one event, but the big thrills were still provided, as Marvin Mills put on a one man show.

The Owls won easily, getting 85 points to A&M's 56. TCU has 25 and Arkansas 8, with Rice winning 11 events, the Aggies four, and the Horned Frogs one.

The younger Mills won the 100, 220, and anchored the 440 yard relay with little pressure. In addition to these fine performances, the "old reliable" high jumpers also came in first. Marvin Taylor leaped to his highest of the year, 6-10, and Ben Greathouse cleared 6-9 to take second. Greathouse missed three tries at 6-11, but on an unofficial fourth attempt, he was successful.

Marvin had a 9.5 in the century and 21.2 in the furlong, but these times had hidden significance. In both races, he was not pushed. In fact, he slowed at the end of the 220 because of the lack of competition. Also, it was his first complete meet since recovering from his muscle injury. Another point of interest is that the meet was run on a cinder track. Speculation is just that, but there is little doubt that his times would have been improved on a better surface with more competition.

The sprint relay team of Steve Barre, Robert Brew, Donny Rogers and Mills easily won in 41.2 seconds. The same conditions as above were present in this event, this being the first time this year that Marvin and Brew ran in the 440 yard relay.

Taylor and Greathouse were able to shut down TCU's David Quisenberry, who led the SWC coming into the meet, having jumped 6-9 1/4. The two Aggies' consistent improvement paid off for them, making this the sixth meet in which they have placed in the top three places.

Another consistent event for A&M has been the pole vault. Rice's Dave Roberts passed to 16-0, but barely cleared that on his third attempt. He wasn't able to go any higher, so that was all for the Owl sophomore. It was the first meet in a month in which he couldn't clear 17-0.

A&M's Harold McMahan, Robert Hoffman, and Larry McIntyre placed 2-3-4, jumping 15-0, and a pair of 14-6's, respectively. Along with the 100, 220, and high jump, this was the best point-getting event for the Aggies.

Rogers had a good day, running a leg on the winning 440 relay unit, taking third in the hurdles, and fourths in the 100 and 220. He ran a 14.9 in the high hurdles, 10.0 in the 100, and 22.5 in the 220.

Brew also had a heavy load, with legs on both relays, and third in the 220 with a time of 22.3. He was the only regular on the mile relay team, which placed third.

This relay squad was third, with Rice's conference-leading team winning in 3:10.5. The Aggies turned in a 3:19.9, running with Brew, David Morris, David Prince, and Edgar Harvey.

Prince and Morris were second and third in the 440 yard intermediate hurdles, Prince running a 54.5 and Morris a 56.0. Harvey ran the high hurdles in 14.9, placing fourth behind Rogers.

Willie Blackmon had a 1:53.5, taking second behind Rice's fine half miler, Steve Straub. Don Kellar, who usually runs the intermediate hurdles and the mile relay was just coming off an injury, so he was entered in only the 440 yard dash. He ran a 49.3 to come in third.

Without Ybarbo, the Aggies could not score in the mile, but Jim Haynie came through with a 15:14.5 in the three mile to take third. The long jump was the only other event in which A&M did not place.

Marc Black was second in the javelin, throwing 213-10. The winner was Jim Pearce of Rice. Pearce has just returned after an injury, and he and Texas' Walt Chamberlain could be trouble for Black in conference. Mitch Robertson was third in the shot put, heaving the ball 48-2. Bubba Vincent threw the discus 166-0, fourth behind three Owls.

Coach Charlie Thomas used this opportunity to rest just about everyone who had any kind of an injury. With the important Kansas Relays and Drake Relays preceding the conference meet, he was taking no chances whatsoever in injuring any of his excellent runners.
