ment information systems in the data processing department at Baylor, said the entire text of "Paradise Lost" had to be transcribed onto computer cards.

"We used the computer to come up with a format for scanning and separating the words," he said.

"There are more than 88,000 words in the entire text of "Paradise Lost" and separating them was quite a task. I had to create programs to regard such words as 'a' and 'the' as insignificant

> Other difficulties were encountered. Hudson said he had a problem in "trying to get the computer to read the word 'may' differently from the month 'May.' "

The Hudsons said they are pleased the total project shows that computers are not limited just to bookkeeping and solving scientific problems.

"We used the computer as an aid in compiling a piece of litera- plete prose works of Milto ture," Hudson said. "The com-
