Ag Information receives 9 awards

Texas A&M's Agricultural Information won nine awards in recently announced national competition.

Six of the awards were won by the news and radio editors, including an excellent rating for press service to dailies and a good rating for press service to weeklies.

Three awards, two very good ratings and one good, were made to a popular type Extension publication on grain sorghums and a general or miscellaneous Experiment Station publication.

Area teacher joins Ag Information staff. Mrs. Lela Edwards of College Station, journalism and English teacher in Bryan and College Station schools since 1958, has joined the Agricultural Information Department as an assistant editor of publications.

Dr. William Tedrick, editor and department head, said Mrs. Edwards' duties will cover writing and editing bulletins, brochures and leaflets. She also will assist Texas Agricultural Extension Service agents in use of communications media. Mrs. Edwards taught journalism and English in the Bryan public schools from 1958 to 1967. She also was student newspaper and yearbook advisor and handled school system publicity during that period.

From 1968 to 1970, she taught journalism and English for the A&M Consolidated schools. Additional duties were those of student newspaper advisor and handling school publications and publicity.

'70 grad gets post in voter sign-up drive

Garry Mauro of Austin was named Friday as college coordinator for Countdown '72, sponsors of the voter registration conference and workshop scheduled for Aug. 7 and 8 in Austin.

Mauro graduated from Texas A&M University in 1970.

CS group receives federal grant

Gov. Preston Smith has announced his approval during the past week of a community action grant of $48,000 in new federal funds to Brazos County Community Action Committee Inc. in College Station for neighborhood service centers and family planning.

The grant is funded under title II of the Economic Opportunity Act, and is effective July 1, 1971, through June 30, 1972.

MSC head, assistant on committees

Two members of the Memorial Student Center staff have been named to committees of two national organizations.

J. Wayne Stark, MSC director, was elected to the executive committee of the Association of College and University Concert Managers Inc., at a recent meeting of the organization's board of directors, of which he also is a member.

Sanders Letbetter, assistant director and business manager of the student center, has been appointed to the International Relations Committee of the Association of College Unions-International.

5 Texas lawmakers honored at banquet

Five Texas legislators were named honorary members of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas here Wednesday night at the Texas Firemen's Training School Banquet.

Engraved plaques were presented to state senators A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, J. P. Word of Meridian and Murray Watson of Waco and representatives W. S. Heatly Jr. of Paducah and John Traeger of Seguin.

The association previously had honored only seven men with honorary memberships during the past 95 years. Fred J. Benson, dean of engineering, and Jay W. Stevens of San Francisco, Calif., retired fire prevention chief of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, are the only living honorees from previous presentations.

Smith a 20-inch sterling silver fire chief's bugle to honor what the company called "the most outstanding fire training program in the nation."

Company representative Peter Sabath of Massachusetts noted Smith's megaphone-style bugle was only the tenth presented by the company since it was founded by William T. Cole in 1869.

The award is considered the prestige honor for the nation's fire service personnel.

TEA awards A&M $39,424, asks help

The Texas Education Agency has Awarded Texas A&M a $39,424 one-year renewable contract to provide technical assistance to the state's vocational education programs.

Heading the program is Dr. Dale Gutcher, associate professor of industrial education, who joined the A&M faculty this summer from Colorado State University. He was project director for the vocational education department at CSU.

He will provide consulting services for preparation of funding proposals, review proposals before submission, review in-service training of vocational personnel and work to up-grade teaching competence.

Texaco promotes former student

Texaco Inc., has announced that O. F. Sebasta has been elected president of Texaco Production Services Ltd., a wholly owned subsidiary.

Sebasta graduated from Texas A&M with a bachelor of science degree in petroleum engineering in 1938. He joined Texaco that same year as a roustabout in the Producing Department.

Training school chief honored

Chief Instructor Henry D. Smith, his staff and instructors for the Texas Firemen's Training School received a special honor from the nation's oldest fire hose manufacturer before ending the one-week municipal school here Friday afternoon.
