ATTICA, N.Y. (P)-Gov. Nel- Smith, concurred with him and medical examiner of Westchester son A. Rockefeller say he still signed a statement that "there County, adjacent to New York were no visible bullet wounds."

Originally, eight of the Attica hostages—guards and other prison employes—were said to have been killed by convicts who slit it occurred. "I do not see how I could have their throats with makeshift done any differently," Rockefeller knives. A ninth hostage's death rience in the field, and formerly was attributed to gunfire.

However, a medical examiner's report 24 hours later ascribed the ernor received renewal support eight deaths to gunshot wounds, from President Nixon in the un- and said there was no indication

There was no immediate offideputies behind a barrage of tear cial explanation of the source of the gunfire which killed the hostages. But State Corrections Commissioner Russell Oswald adslitting reports were false, and been subjected to gunfire from state troopers.

The hostage victims reportedly had been stripped of their own now set by the state Corrections clothing and forced to don inmate confused trooper marksmen. And Rockefeller said that, in and gunfire at Cellblock D where "accidents can very well happen."

Remaining unanswered, how--how the reports of throat slittings originated, the origin of false reports that some of the hostages were killed before the Monday assault, and that at least one had been castrated, and what

However, Hollis Chase, presi-Quinn's wife, Nancy, fought dent of the guards union at Attica, stuck by the original version of the slayings and declared:

"We've got people, our fellow bors said: "They got too lenient guards, who carried off the bodies of these hostages. Their hands and feet were bound, their throats were slit from ear to ear.'

In an apparent effort to furcalled to Attica a well-known pathologist, Dr. Henry Siegel,

Pathology involves the analysis of the cause of death, and the manner and sequence in which Siegel has had 30 years expewas executive deputy chief medical examiner in the prestigious New York City office. The acting che examiner from the latter office, Michael Baden, also was summoned here.

In view of the revised information, blaming the hostage deaths on gunfire, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was asked in Washington if President Nixon still stood by his backing of Rockefeller in the Attica assault.

"Of course he does," Ziegler replied. "The governor had the responsibility to deal with a very difficult situation. He met that responsibility . . . the President's not going to second guess him.'

Nixon had expressed his support in a telephone call to Rockefeller Monday afternoon. Ziegler said the two had another telephone conference Tuesday evening, after the disclosure that gunshot wounds killed the host-

Unrest generated by the Attica riot spread to other prisons in New York and elsewhere.

State troopers stood emergency patrol on the walls of Great Meadows prison at Comstock, N.Y., and Clinton state prison at Dannemora.

At Great Meadows, where about 75 Attica rioters were transferred, there was a four-hour outbreak of bottle-throwing and firesetting in the so-called "radical" wing of the prison. The outburst was described as minor and no injuries were reported.

In the county jail at Atlanta, Ga., inmates threw food, broke fixtures and lights, and plugged and tore up plumbing. Sheriff Leroy Stynchcombe quoted one inmate as saying the prisoners were going to take control of the jail and that "Attica ain't seen nothing yet."

The sheriff said he had rejected a list of prisoner demands which he called "silly." Among them were request for hair spray and cologne, which Stynchcombe said they could use to "get drunk."
