

Aggies to face Wishbone against Baylor Saturday

By MICHAEL RICE
Battalion Sports Writer

A&M will be facing the Wishbone this Saturday afternoon when the Baylor Bears come to Aggieland to fight it out in a Southwest Conference battle.

Incorporating the new formation for the Bears on the Monday before the Arkansas game, Coach Bill Beall's footballers were able to net 172 yards against the SWC's leading defense, Arkansas.

The quarterback spot for the Bears is still a question for Beall, as his number one man, Si Southall, has been running with an injured thigh.

Last year, Southall hit 56 of 160 for 905 yards and five TD's, the major part of Baylor's aerial yardage. The man behind Southall will probably be 195 pound Randy Cavender, who has less experience than Southall.

Bench strength is a question mark in the Baylor lineup, with the Bears able to field a fairly decent starting team. At ends Beall's got Bob Hardin (6-3, 205) and Ron Henson (195), who can catch the ball in a crowd. Both have one year of varsity experience.

At the tackle spots return a pair of quality performers, Ron Evans (239) and Joe Allbright (235), and at the guards Barry Morgan (208) and David Walters

(212) will be coming back to play fine football again.

The center spot will see Mike Hale (226) and Carry Dorman (211) alternate the snapping to the quarterback. Hale has the determination to make up for his lack of speed.

Matthew Williams, who was a strong contender for offensive sophomore of the year last season, gives the Bears a quality runner at tailback. Williams is tough to handle as he carried 208 times last season for 711 yards. His back up man will be 184-pound Preston Pitts.

Other running backs include Bill Cornelius (202), Mike Chan-der (177), Godfrey White (195), and Gene Wilson (185).

For the defensive side of the game, Baylor will be playing with a squad that is very aggressive, one comparable to the Aggie's defense.

At left end, Pat Nunn (206) will be throwing his weight around the field with his substitute, Tom Fitzgerald (196), behind him. Right end will include Wayne Trammell (193) and Rusty Bundy (198).

Tackles will include Glen Chmelat (226), Mike Black (230), Gary Sutton (221), and Mike Wilder (205). Halfbacks on the field will be Roger Goree (200), Harold Rogers (218), Ed Taylor

(212), and Paul Savage (224). Ira Dean (194), and Ricky Duff (171) will head the list in the cornerback slots along with Tommy Stewart (171) and Harlan Deem (184).

Also in the backfield for the Bear's defense will be Coach Beall's son Phil, who weighs in at 180 pounds. He will move from the safety position.

Overall, the Bears are comparable to the Aggies. However, each team has only one win thus far in the season because of withering offensive units. With the use of the Wishbone, Baylor may be able to win only if the players using it have had enough practice in its employ.

Clemente named Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Roberto Clemente, admitting he has suffered mental torment as a ballplayer, said Wednesday "I finally have peace of mind."

"Well, here I am," the Pittsburgh Pirates' star said proudly at a downtown restaurant, where he was presented with a car by Sport Magazine as the Most Valuable Player in the World Series.

"Now everyone knows the way Roberto Clemente plays. They saw me in the World Series," he added, cracking one of his infrequent smiles.

Clemente gently chided the sports writers for what he called discrimination toward him during much of his baseball career.

"In the 1960 All-Star Game, I won it with a hit and Willie Mays got the MVP," said Clemente. "The press calls me a crybaby, a hypochondriac because of my injuries. The press says I'm not a team player."

"I believe I'm the best player in baseball today . . . and I'm glad I was able to show it against Baltimore in the Series."

Clemente, whose .414 average and outstanding outfield play helped the Pirates beat the Orioles, four games to three, always wanted to be recognized as the Puerto Rican Babe Ruth, he says.

He hopes to achieve a king-sized salary next year.

"Money really means nothing to me," he said, "but it will mean something if I am the highest paid player in the game. It will mean I am the best."

Clemente, whose salary the past season was in the $120,000 range and who estimates that he earns $150,000 a year including endorsements and other outside interests, said he expects to get his biggest raise ever next year.

a victim of circumstances. The Saints are the team of the week and I just happened to be the quarterback for the team of the week," Manning said after directing them to a stunning 24-14 upset over the Dallas Cowboys.

"After my poor performance against Chicago, I got worried about my position," the No. 1 draft choice from the University of Mississippi said. "If I'd had another bad game, I wouldn't have blamed them for going with someone else to get things going."

Manning got thing going himself against the Cowboys on Sunday, throwing one touchdown pass, running for two others and leading his team in rushing yardage.

Intramural office offers gymnastics

A gymnastics tournament, which will be open to any student wishing to enter, will be held soon, the intramural office announced Wednesday.

The meeting will be conducted by the gymnastics club. The intramural office will be receiving entries, but will have no control over the actual operation of the meet. No team participation points will be given winners.

Intramurals are continuing this week and league champions will be determined by the end of next week in most sports. Playoffs will not begin until December 1, however.

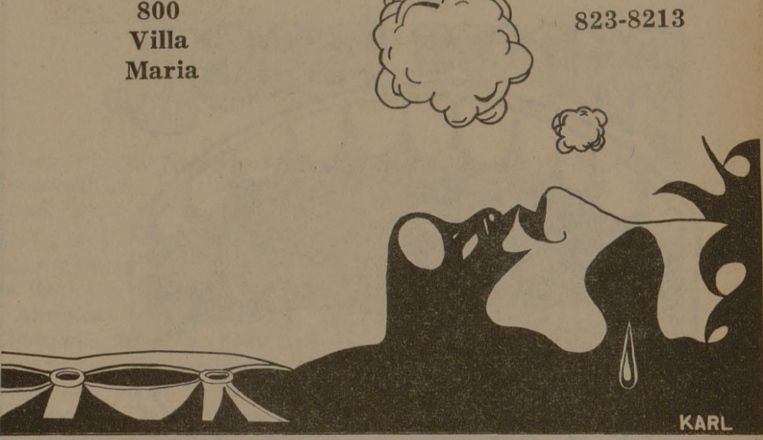

The intramural office has announced the sports to be offered during the spring semester. They are team tennis, volleyball, wrestling, softball, track, swimming and golf.
