Worster pleads guilty to marijuana charge; he and teammate assessed minimum fines

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Steve Worster, 22, and Seth Miller, 23, two former players with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League, pleaded guilty in a provincial court today to charges of possession of marijuana. They were fined $100 each.

Worster was All-American from the University of Texas before turning pro.

Miller and Worster were placed on voluntary waivers with no recall by the football club after their arrest. They returned to the United States following their initial court appearances Aug. 27.

Judge Robert Morrison said the alternatives to the fine would be five days in jail.

Constable James Garshinsky of the Hamilton police drug squad testified that he and other officers searched a house rented by Worster, Miller and Pete Wysoci, another former Hamilton player, Aug. 26.

He said Worster, a fullback, admitted that there were drugs in the house. Garshinsky said Worster took the officers to a basement recreation room where a plastic bag containing green plant material was found.

The substance was later analyzed as 11.7 grams of marijuana, having an estimated value of about $20.

Court was told that Miller, a cornerback, admitted that a hookay pipe found on the dining room table belonged to him. The pipe was later analyzed as containing traces of marijuana.

John White, counsel for the two accused, asked for minimum fines for his clients.

He told Judge Morrison that Worster had spent $300 in traveling to Hamilton from Texas for the trial.

White added that Worster "has lost a position" as a result of his arrest.

The lawyer also said Miller had travelled to Hamilton from Chicago on two separate occasions for court appearances.

"He has lost a promising future," said White.

Worster, has gone back to the University of Texas to complete studies. Miller, a former Arizona State star, said at the time of his arrest he hoped to play a year after his case was settled.
