

Aggies and Rice Owls meet in surprising match tomorrow

JOHN CURYLO
 Sports Editor

At the beginning of the season, nobody would have guessed that the A&M-Rice game would receive the attention that it has, but the game in Houston tomorrow afternoon could be one of the finest of the year in the Southwestern Conference.

Last week, the Arkansas Razorbacks just barely managed a tie with the Owls, and they lost a game to the Rock game two weeks ago, 17-9. The spoils of the game off tomorrow, and the series stands 28-24-3 in favor of A&M. Rice overcame a 14 point fourth quarter deficit to beat the Aggies last year in Kyle Field, 18-17. In 1969, a sluggish game went to the Owls, 7-6. In 1968, touchdowns were exchanged in the first period, with A&M coming out on top, 24-14. The three previous years the Aggie won, twice by a single point and another time by five.

After the rousing 27-10 defeat of the SMU Mustangs, A&M will be using this game to even their season record and prepare for the traditional Thanksgiving Day meeting with Texas.

Joe Mac King, who took over the role in the TCU game, continues to lead the offense at the quarterback spot. His backup man is Tim Trimmier. Although King's statistics are not particularly impressive, Coach Gene Stallings says that leadership and consistency are his main assets. The senior from Mineola hit on five of seven passes for 117 yards and one touchdown last week.

Doug Neill and Marc Black again share the fullback spot. Neill has been an important factor in the improved Aggie offense with his excellent blocking and ability to get the crucial yard.

However, all the talk is about Mark Green, the sophomore tailback. Green set two records last week by running with the ball 41 times for 158 yards and two touchdowns. Having recovered from a lingering injury, Green has been the A&M work horse in the last two games.

Steve Burks, Hugh McElroy and Cliff Thomas are all in again, and the trio will be substituting for Green. In addition, McElroy and Rick Spencer, a wingback, return punts and kick-offs.

Starting wide receivers are Robert Murski and Billy Joe Polasek, with Spencer and John Gardner behind them. Polasek started his first game last week, catching an 18 yard touchdown pass. Joey Herr may be ready for action after rejoining his collarbone against Arkansas.

The tight end is Homer May, who caught that thrilling 52 yard pass to set up a score last week. Mitch Robertson, the punter, is number two there, but he becomes the second tight end on short yardage plays.

Coming off their best game of the year, the offensive line has suddenly become tough to penetrate after doing little damage earlier in the season.

Tackles Buster Callaway and Ralph Sacra, guards Todd Christopher and Leonard Forey and center Skip Kuehn all received stars for their performance last week. They are backed up by Ted Smith, Mike Park and Robert Gerasmowicz.

Defensively, the Aggies have been consistent throughout the season, punishing opponents every week. Forcing fumbles and key interceptions have been combined with crushing tackles to shut down enemy point-making.

Ends Max Bird and Mike Lord, tackles Boice Best and Van Odum and middle guard Bill Wiebold make up the front line, with Best being named Defensive Player of the Week in the SWC by the Associated Press for his play in the SMU game.

Behind these five are ends Rusty Pool and Kent Finley, tackles Dan Peoples and James Dubcak and middle guard Mike Bruton.

The linebacking corps has provided the defense with leadership and valuable steadiness. Grady Hoermann and Steve Luebbehusen are the starters, with Lord and Dennis Carruth ready to fill in for them. Hoermann was named SWC Defensive Player of the Week by The Dallas Morning News.

The defensive secondary of cornerbacks Bland Smith and Lee Hitt and safeties David Hoot and Brad Dusek refused to allow Mustang quarterback Gary Hammond the big play, and these four will try to do the same against Rice's Bruce Gadd. They are backed up by Larry Ellis, Ed Ebrum and Mike Bellar.

Bellar kicks off for the Aggies, with Pat McDermott and Roberto Payan doing the place kicking. McDermott's two field goals last week bring his career total to 12, only one short of the school record set by Charlie Riggs in 1966-68.
