al Senate asks student, faculty board members

By HAYDEN WHITSETT Editor

TALIO

Ce

ds

er '40 Brya 742

IN AN

NT

Statio

nest

Lunch

Catfis ngs $1

v Bu

lads.

1.79

lea F

e Food

Thru

1

M

NG

ST

A resolution calling for a stuent and faculty member on the Board of Directors was passed by the Student Senate Thursday ight with no debate and only two dissenting votes.

The only words said about the proposal made by Mark Blake-more (Geosciences) dealt with changing the words Student Senate President to Student Body President. The lack of debate aught John Sharp, senate presilent, well off guard, giving him slightly confused appearance as e called several times for debate. call for the question from sever-

I members lead to the vote. Also passed without debate was resolution calling for a letter be sent to the Texas Legislaure supporting a bill creating positions on state boards for stuhave the same effect as the resolution. The proposed constitution was also considered at the meeting, crease was to take place. Otherespecially the part about apportionment.

The only major change dealt with the apportionment of senators from the Corps of Cadets. The constitution now call for a minimum of six representatives from the Corps of Cadets with any others to be elected at large. The others would come from an increase in the size of the Corps. The earlier plan called for each sophomore, junior, and senior class was to have at least two senators and apportionment was to be done on a one to 500 ratio.

dents and faculty. The bill would the phrase, "an equal number of senators." The population would have had to be increased by 1,500 in the Corps if an equitable in-> wise difficulties would have arose as soon as the population increased or decreased by 500, or just enough for one senator. Objecting most strenuously to both proposals was Bruce Clay, public relations chairman. According to population figures,

The problem created came from Clay said, the corps has less than 2,500 members or enough for just five senators using the one to 500 ratio provided for. Giving the Corps six senators would lead to class in the Corps to have an an over representation of one equal number of senators. Each senator, he said.

Clay also objected to the way increases would have to be made by threes every time the population of the Corps increased.

the apportionment to the Corps of Cadets is made on a class basis, unlike the civilian representation. The fact that the corps is structured on a class basis rather than living area was the reason given at the meeting for the difference. If each class was to be represented equally, as had been called for, the population would have had to increase by 1,500 before additions could be made, or each increase of 500 would have to be worked out separately.

Clay proposed that instead of having two members from each class and the rest elected at large that the senate should change it to one representative from each class with the rest elected at large. This would eleminate the problem of one extra senator, Clay ley and Hughes, one; Davis-Gary The reason for this is that said, plus provide for a class system and leave it open for expansion in case of population increases.

> Though initially receiving support, the issue fell by the wayside when it was pointed out that tentative forecasts for next year would probably give civilian representation an extra as well. Civilians will probably have ten or eleven senators. The reapportionment plan tentatively call for civilian representation to be divided between paired halls: A suggested apportionment plan put together by the constitution committee calls for the following scheme of representation.

Law and Puryear, one; Keath-

Civilian

and Moses, one; Henderson and Fowler, one; Moore and Crocker, one; McInnis and Schumacher, one; Walton and Hotard, one; Leggett and Hart, one; Civilians in Corps dorms, one; and new dormitory, two.

Figures used to calculate the representation are from last semester. Corps

Corps representation would be two sophomores, two juniors and two seniors.

Off-Campus University apartments, two; and remaining off-campus students shall elect 16 senators by classification.

Colleges The colleges are represented by 50 senators divided up on a percentage basis.

Agriculture would have nine, Architecture — three, Business four, Education - five, Engineering — 12, Geoscience — two, Liberal Arts - five, Science six, Veterinary Medicine — four. Jack Carey (ex-officio-Corps) said that to treat the Corps by population representation would be wrong when in reality it is an entity of its own. The Corps should be treated as a whole because it has a policy of its own, he said.

Carey felt that the best possibility lay with sticking with the current constitution.

Also questioned at the meeting was the veto power of the president over Student Senate legislation. According to the constitution the president of the student body can veto any legislation by (See Senate, page 2)

Friday — Clear to partly cloudy. Winds light and variable. High 48°, low 24°.

Saturday - Partly cloudy to cloudy. Southerly winds 10-12 mph. High 56°, low 33°.

Mrs. Donald Shay, of Linthicum, Md., did not dispute that some of the missing are dead but said Sullivan's saying so only causes more grief for their

Mrs. Shay, mother of Air Force

Capt. Donald Shay Jr. and an assistant national coordinator of the National League of American

Servicemen Captured or Missing

in Southeast Asia, called Sullivan's remarks "a terrible thing families.

to say."

Vol. 67 No. 72

College Station, Texas

845-2226 Many Indochina MIA's are dead, official claims

WASHINGTON (AP) - A State except the North Vietnamese Department official acknowledged Thursday that many Americans missing in Indochina are dead. His statement to a House subcommittee drew an angry reaction from the mother of a downed American pilot.

"We recognize, of course, that many of the men listed as missing in Indochina are almost certainly dead," said William H. Sullivan, deputy assistant secretary of State for East Asian and Pacific affairs.

While cautioning that no one

SCONA delegates appointed really know how many of the over

1,600 military men the United States says are captured or missing are really dead, Sullivan said the government keeps track of ably dead and notifies their Pilots in other planes sometimes report that no parachute was opened when a U.S. jet goes down, and rescue planes sometimes find a "high probability" that a pilot did not survive, Sul-

the names of men who are prob-

families.

livan said.

A&M's 32 delegates to the 17th Student Conference on National Affairs (SCONA) have been named by President Jack K. Williams.

Selected to represent all classes, graduate and international students, the TAMU delegates will participate with students from throughout the U.S. in the Feb. 16-19 conference at the Memorial Student Center.

Addresses and roundtable sessions will deal with social, government, economic, business, po-litical, national policy and international aspects of "The Impact of the University." Background information is provided delegates through research reports from the Library of Congress.

Among speakers are Senator John Tower, Joseph P. Cosand of the Office of Education; "Establishment Maverick" Joseph Rhodes Jr.; Dr. Lawrence Fouraker, Harvard business dean, and Dr. Earl McGrath of Temple University.

A&M delegates were selected reen Turk, Terre Haute, Ind., and Thomas P. Vick, Bryan.

Junior delegates to SCONA XVII are Wayne E. DeVaughn, Julia A. McCall, Shannon D. Mc-Kinney, Paul T. Gibson and John B. Willis, Houston; Layne E. Kruse, McGregor, and Don A. Webb, Arlington.

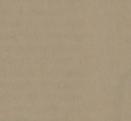

From the class of '74 are Karen Y. Haws, Austin; Randle R. Ross, San Antonio; Barbara B. Sears, Columbia, Mo., and Scott D. Steffler. Houston.

Freshmen delegates are Thomlay E<sup>re</sup> THIS SLUMBERING SEAL has taken advantage of an Get th opportunity that most of us rarely have: to get away from photo) buoy floating in the harbor off San Diego, Calif. (AP Wire-Price it all. The pseudo-carefree desert island is a metal marker

Friday, February 4, 1972

Cloudy, still cold

Of top 78 A&M's library 75th in rating "We are one of the smaller umes, up nearly 57,000 from last praries in the association and year. A&M ranked 71st in total

ward.

The A&M Library ranks 75th TTER out of the top 78 university li-BE braries in total number of volimes, according to a recently PRE published report by the Association of Research Libraries.

The association annually lists tax certain statistics such as the total number of volumes, numper of volumes added, staff, and total operating expenses of its nembers, which are the 78 larg-INING 2 est academic libraries in the na-libraries in the association and therefore rank near the bottom of the statistics, but we are in direct competition with the biggest and best in the country, like Harvard," said Library Director John

B. Smith. The report is used as a guide for libraries to make a comparison between their operation and others. This year's statistics show the library with 716,260 total vol-staff with 111. Total operating expenses were $1,487,490.

"If we continue to progress at our present rate, we will move up considerably in the rating next year." said Smith. "But we can only move up so far. We are competing with older institutions who have had strong library programs for many years, some for over a hundred."

Other Texas schools in the rat#### ings are Texas University and Rice. Texas ranks 15th in total volumes with 2.427.062, and 8th in total expenses with $5,993,720. Rice has 713.778 volumes ranking 76th, and ranks 76th in total expenses with $1,195,054.

The number one school in the ratings is Harvard. Harvard's total number of volumes is 8,-451,187. The total expenses were $8,718,848.

The Association of Research Libraries is a select group with membership by invitation only. A&M has been a member since 1963. The Association does research into administration of large libraries, lobbies for favorable legislation and collects helpful information for its members in addition to publishing statistics.

"It is quite an honor for us to belong to this organization because only the best, most prestigious libraries are asked to

All reserve-type seats sold for A&M-Tech bout Saturday

Reserve seats for Saturday's A&M-Texas Tech basketball game in G. Rollie White Coliseum have been sold out.

Sports Information Director Spec Gammon said Thursday that general admission tickets will be sold beginning at 5:15 Saturday afternoon. He emphasized that only fans with reserved seats are guaranteed admission to the game.

Campus TV to air show of interviews

Charles W. Powell, new dean of men, and Toby M. Schreiber, dean of women, will be interviewed on KAMU television Monday night.

James P. Hannigan, dean of students, will introduce the deans and Barb Sears and Randy Ross of the Student Senate will

The program will be shown on channel 15-UHF at 8:30.

Emory Bellard, A&M's new football coach, is also featured. He will be interviewed by John Curylo, Battalion Sports Editor, and Terry Brown of the Student Senate.

The program includes a discussion of the proposed constitution by the Student Senate Executive Committee.

Sid Hughes and Ben Thurman of the Student Conference on National Affairs will appear to talk of the upcoming 17th annual meeting.

"The doors will be locked when all the general admission tickets have been sold," he said. "We early as possible, because we

p.m., preceded by the freshman game between the Aggie Fish and Temple Junior College. The preliminary contest starts at 5:45 laws allow."

p.m.

hrough interviews arranged for the president by Dean of Students James P. Hannigan.

International student delegates are Sohail Aslam of West Pakistan; Fernando Giannetti, Argentina; Jibran Hannaney, Iraq; Brian Marshall, Australia; Ram Misra, India; Uwe Schulz, Germany; Mojtaba Yazdi, Iran, and Shariq Josufzai, East Pakistan.

Representing TAMU graduate students are Edwin A. Chauncey, Lubbock; Ronald V. Crabtree, Dallas; Glenn E. Head, Richardson; Ray Quinn, Minneapolis, Minn., and Esteban Salinas, Weslaco.

Senior participants are Marla F. Pollack, Miami Beach, Fla.; Paul E. Turner, Livingston; Mau- John B. Cheatham, San Marcos.

Galveston-bound tanker is overdue:

GALVESTON (AP) - Searchers south of here.

A U.S. Coast Guard spokesman said the life jacket had no markings and it was not determined if it came from the Texas City tanker, V. A. Fog, missing since Tuesday with a crew of 35 and five maintenance men aboard.

The 572-foot vessel became the object of a search by ship and planes in the gulf south-southeast of here after she did not arrive in Galveston as expected.

The ship left Freeport about noon Tuesday to clean 18 empty tanks of highly explosive benzene residue, then deliver two tanks of xylene, not considered highly explosive, to Galveston.

urge everyone to get there as The cleaning location was about 50 miles offshore, as required by cannot admit more than the fire federal Environmental Protection Association regulations. The varsity game begins at 8

However, a Coast Guard spokesman said Thursday in Houston the search area had been widened to include areas as far as 150 miles off the Galveston coast.

H. Boothe, C. Brown and John D. Nash, Houston, and Steven J. Eberhard, New Braunfels.

Honorary delegates are Student Senate President John Sharp, Civilian Student Council President Gordon Pilmer, Corps Commander Thomas Stanley and MSC Council President John Dacus.

Alternates include freshmen Shirley Ashorn of San Antonio and Thamos Walker of Dallas; sophomores Mark Blakemore, Richmond, Ky., and Jack Mc-Neely, Lubbock; junior David Stockard, Meridian; vet medicine student Perry Lee Reeves, Temple Hills, Md., and graduate students Rose Marie Hicks, Bryan, and unidentified life jacket possible clue

Authorities could offer no evilooking for a missing tanker in dence to support a theory as to the Gulf of Mexico found a life what happened to the tanker, jacket Thursday about 60 miles though a coast guard spokesman said there was "a lot of speculation as to what might have occurred."

He said reports from a man in Galveston who reportedly heard an explosion Tuesday and a woman who saw a "ball of fire" at sea while driving near West Bay Tuesday were not believed to be connected with the tanker's disappearance.

A news release from Texas City Tanker's Corp., which chartered the ship, and the Ithaca Corp., which owns the vessel, said no names of crewmen would be released until all next of kin had been notified of the ship's disappearance.

A pilot reported Tuesday seeing a column of smoke about two miles high in the area where the ship was to have cleaned her tanks.

An aircraft search was ordered in the area where the smoke was sighted, then discontinued, but resumed again when the tanker was reported overdue.

A documentary filmed hailed 75 cents for students with activas "the stinging, hard incredible truth" will be shown Friday, Feb. 11, at A&M by the Black Awareess Committee of the Memorial Student Center.

"King" is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the MSC Ballroom, announced Black Awareness Chairman Marvin L. Bridges.

The film is an account of the activities of the late Dr. Martin Luther King for equality, justice and peace. It consists of newsreel and television footage only. Without narration or editorial comment, the film covers civil rights campaigns from 1955 to 1968, beginning with the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott that propelled Dr. King into prominence and ending with his funeral.

Bridges said area citizens as well as TAMU students and faculty-staff are urged to see the BAC-sponsored film. Tickets are

University National Bank "On the side of Texas A&M."

ity cards and $1 for all others. Tickets may be obtained at the Student Program Office in the MSC, or from Cecil Nutall (845-5396) or William Grays (845-5975). Included in the footage are lunch counter sit-ins and Freedom Rides of the '60s. Birmingham desegregation struggles met with police dogs and fire hoses, the voter registration drive that culminated with the Selma March, Chicago's open housing campaign, the nation-wide Poor People's Campaign and the Memphis sanitation workers' strike. The "King" soundtrack re-experiences his sermons "I Have A Dream" and "I Have Been to the Mountain Top." Music of the civil rights marchers occupies much of the track, which includes voices of the late Mahalia Jackson and Odetta.

Continuity is derived from readings such as the Bible and Langston Hughes by actors Harry Belafonte, Ruby Dee, Ben Gazzara, -Adv.

theaters without cost for the nation-wide, one-night-only benefit. Church groups of all denominations publicized the event and sold tickets. Audiences were enthusiastic and, with rare unanimity, so were the critics. "King" was nominated for an Academy Award as the best documentary of the year. "If film is a mirror," Ellen

nated footage, film labs waived fees, advertising and public relations companies contributed services and owners provided

Holly wrote in the New York Times, "we should all see it, for, black or white, we will never look and see ourselves that beautiful Charlton Heston, James Earl or that innocent again."

"Hard truth" film coming Jones, Burt Lancaster, Paul Newman, Anthony Quinn, Clarence Williams III and Joanne Wood-First shown simultaneously in 300 cities on March 24, 1970, "King" is the product of a wide range of contributions. Motion picture industry leaders donated facilities and services, all major join," commented Smith. newsreel and TV companies do-act as interviewers.