Aggies still tied for first; beat Baylor in overtime

By JOHN CURYLO
Battalion Sports Editor

A disruptive fight and some missed free throws failed to stop the Aggies in Waco Tuesday night, as they stayed in a tie for first place in the Southwest Conference with a 101-95 overtime win over the Baylor Bears.

Southern Methodist defeated Texas Tech, 87-73, in Dallas to remain tied with A&M at 8-3. Tech, Texas and Texas Christian are tied for third, 7-4.

A brawl erupted with 8:01 remaining in regulation play, and the game was held up for some time while players were cleared from the court and fans were ushered back to their seats.

Vehement protests of numerous calls made by referees Percy Penn and Bob Smith were ignored, and several players were allowed to hold individual battles during the course of the inconsistently called game.

Coach Shelby Metcalf of A&M was assessed a technical foul less than a minute before the fight began. Twice during the game Metcalf threw his coat down and kicked over a chair when his pleas for better quality officiating went unanswered.

The Aggies hit only 17 of 33 free throws, but a field goal percentage of 57.5 made the difference, as three starters scored 20 or more points and Wayne Howard came off the bench to contribute 16.

The Bears jumped out in front, 14-5, four and a half minutes into the contest, but the Aggies bounced back to lead 31-30 10 minutes later on a short jump shot by Jeff Overhouse. Much of A&M's scoring in the effort here was from Howard, who connected on seven of 12 from the field and two of five free throws during the game.

Overhouse was the leading scorer for the Aggies with 22. He led all rebounders by hauling in 12 caroms. The 6-7 junior fouled out with two seconds left in the game, but he had earlier injured his leg when the officials allowed several players to struggle for possession of the ball while they were piled up on the court.

Randy Knowles scored 21, hitting 10 of 17 from the field and one free throw, in addition to getting eight rebounds. Mario Brown finished with 20 points, the result of making eight of 15 field goal tries and four of nine charity tosses. Bobby Threadgill had 10 rebounds.

A&M built its 39-37 halftime lead into a 65-54 advantage at the 8:53 mark, but Baylor picked up steam after the fight. The volleys of paper cups fired throughout the game finally shell-shocked the Aggies, too, and the Bears began closing the gap.

The Aggies scored but six points in the final 5:35 of regulation play, and a Lee Griffin jump shot from eight feet tied it at 83 with 2:38 to play. A&M went ahead on a 20-foot jump shot by Knowles, but a 10-footer by Tom Stanton sent the battle into overtime.

The teams traded baskets and free throws for four minutes of the extra period, but Baylor could get no more after reaching the 95 level. Threadgill hit a lay-up, Brown converted a one-and-one, and Rick Duplantis dropped in an easy layup to end it. Stanton was the leading scorer for Baylor with 27. Roy Thomas had 19, followed by Pat Hester with 17 and Adam West with 16. West was the leading rebounder for the Bears with 10.

Much of the animosity persisted during the game between Brown and Stanton. The two were involved in an incident in the first meeting of the schools in which Stanton, sitting on the bench, threw water at Brown.

The scoring:
A&M — Jeff Overhouse, 21; Randy Knowles, 21; Mario Brown, 20; Wayne Howard, 16; Bobby Threadgill, 8; Rick Duplantis, 8; Bob Gobin, 8; Brad Pauley, 2.
