Aggies play Falcons and St. Mary's

By JOHN CURYLO
Battalion Sports Writer

The Texas Aggie baseball team begins the Easter holidays Thursday and Friday by playing a pair of doubleheaders in San Antonio.

A&M takes on the Air Force Academy Falcons Thursday at Keefe Field, while Friday's twinbill is against St. Mary's. The first two games begin at 1:00, and Friday's contests start at 5:00.

Monday, St. Mary's won two games from Air Force, 2-0 and 4-0. Earlier in the season, the Aggies beat St. Mary's, 2-0 and 5-2. In the 2-0 game, Bruce Katt pitched a no-hitter.

The Aggies are 13-7 for the year and 3-3 in Southwest Conference play. A&M won two games of a three-game league series from Southern Methodist last weekend in Dallas. They won a doubleheader Friday, 6-0 and 8-4, but dropped a single game Saturday, 8-3.

A&M pounded out 22 hits in the twinbill, but they managed six base hits in the nine-inning loss to the Mustangs. In the series with the Ponies, the Aggies clouted their first three home runs of the season.

Pitcher Charlie Kelley got the first one, a solo shot in the second game Friday. Catcher Mike Frazier hit a two-run homer in the next inning, his first varsity hit. The only tallies in Saturday's game came on a three-run homer by 5-6 second baseman Jim Langford.

Several pitchers will be used in the two doubleheaders. Among the hurlers on the staff are Katt, 3-2, who has a conference earned run average of 0.00 and a season ERA of 0.51. The other senior pitcher is Kelley, who has a 3-3 mark, 1-1 in SWC action. Kelley's ERA is 2.96 for the year.

The other pitchers are Jackie Binks, 2-1, Steve Janda, 2-1, Bobby Wittkamp, 2-0, Charlie Jenkins, 1-0, Ben Sims, Jim Wallace, Mike Reaves and Josh Garrett.

The lineup for the Aggies will have Butch Ghutzman (.200) at first base, Langford (.283) at second, Jim Hacker (.288) at third, Carroll Lilly (.292) or Mike Schraeder (.161) at short, Jim Atterbury (.179) or Sandy Bate (.292) in left field, R. J. Englert, the team's leading hitter (.431) in center and Karl Bystrom (.333) or Gene Reinartz (.231) in right. The catcher will be Frazier (.095) or Tommy Hawthorne (.143).

Englert leads the team in batting average, hits (31), runs (16), runs batted in (18) and triples (4). The senior has a 12-game hitting streak and has hit safely in 17 of A&M's 20 games. Langford is sporting a nine-game streak of hits.

The Aggies are hitting .260 as a team, while the pitchers have compiled a 2.28 earned run average. Having committed 29 errors, as opposed to 48 for the opposition, A&M's fielding percentage is .970.

The next conference action for the Aggies is an April 7-8 doubleheader with the Baylor Bears here. After that, A&M plays Houston here April 11. Then the Aggies travel to Lubbock for a series with Texas Tech April 14-15.

April 18, a return twinbill is scheduled in Houston with the Cougars. April 21-22, the Aggies host the Rice Owls before closing out the season April 28-29 in Austin with the Texas Longhorns.

The Steers are favored to win the crown this year. The last time they failed to get at least a share of the title was 1964, when the Aggies won the championship outright. Should Texas win, it would mean they swept the flags in football, basketball and baseball this year. SMU won swimming, and the Horns have a chance to win golf. Rice is favored in tennis and track, although Texas could pull an upset in the latter.

Elvin Hayes may be moved if Rockets get new center

HOUSTON (AP)—Elvin Hayes, one of the leading scorers in the National Basketball Association, may be ticketed for a move from center to forward next season, Rockets Coach Tex Winter said Tuesday.

"Our idea at this time is that in order for this franchise to be a winner, to compete against the Jabbar, Chamberlains, and Nate Thurmonds, we need to get a center that is a bona fide shot retractor," Winter told the Houston Sportswriters and Sports-casters Association.

Winter said the 6-foot-9 Hayes did a tremendous job at center considering his height, but had a tough time when he came up against much taller opposition. "This is the key to it," Winter said, "which means we've got to get Elvin to play forward. If he couldn't play forward he'd go back to the post and try to beat out whoever we had there.

Defensive progress is pleasing, says coach Melvin Robertson

A&M defensive coordinator Melvin Robertson expressed pleasure with the Aggies' defensive progress following Tuesday's two-hour practice. "The first defense is making good progress and the second defensive unit, despite Saturday's scrimmage statistics, is showing improvement," Robertson said. "They're learning basic defenses and aren't doing any stunting yet and they're showing good progress in techniques."

Robertson and defensive line coach Dee Powell both singled out tackle Bill Wiebold for his performance Tuesday. "Wiebold had his best day of the spring," Robertson said. "Boice Best, the other tackle, always looks good."

Among the offensive linemen, left guard Todd Christopher drew the praises of offensive coordinator Ben Hurt. "The first team line looked real good in Saturday's scrimmage and Christopher had a good workout today," Hurt said. "The Aggies will work again Wednesday and then break for the Easter vacation. They'll return to work the following Wednesday."

Netters defeat TCU Horned Frogs in conference match Tuesday

The Aggies rolled to a 7-0 tennis victory over the Texas Christian Horned Frogs in Fort Worth Tuesday.

Juan Corominas of TCU 6-2, 6-2 in the top singles match. In other singles matches Bill Wright defeated John Pottell, 6-1, 6-3, Bill Hoover defeated Max Falls, 6-1, 6-3, Dan Courson beat John Fletcher, 6-1, 6-4 and Tommy Connell won over John Matzilevich, 6-0, 6-3.

In doubles competition, Fikes and Courson defeated Corominas and Ned James, 6-2, 6-0, and Wright and Hoover beat Fletcher and John Kritser, 6-2, 6-1.
