Rugby Club loses close tourney game

For the first time since January 1971, the A&M Rugby Club lost a tournament, but the victorious Austin Gold had to earn the championship of the Austin Invitational Rugby Tournament last weekend.

Sixteen teams from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana were entered, including Fort Sill (Okla.), Loyola (La.), Austin Gold and Black, El Paso, St. Edward's, Galveston, San Antonio, Dallas, Dallas Harlequins, NASA, Baylor Medical, Rice, Austin No. 3 and the two A&M squads.

The double-elimination tournament began Saturday with the preliminaries and ended Sunday with the semifinals and the finals. Both Aggie teams were in the semifinals, with the White team losing to the Austin Gold and the Maroon team beating the Austin Black.

In early games, the Maroons defeated Fort Sill, 47-0, and Dallas, 16-0. The White team won over St. Edward's, 8-3, and the Harlequins, 20-7.

The Maroons subdued the Austin Black, 13-4, while the White team fell to the Austin Gold, 36-3, setting up the championship game.

In the first five minutes of the hard-hitting, fast-moving battle, the Golds launched a sweeping three quarter movement to overlap the Aggie line with beautiful running to produce a try (four points) which was converted to make the score 6-0.

The Aggies came back with some good passing, and, 15 minutes into the half, John Gunn kicked a penalty goal for three points. A&M took the halftime lead when Butch Preston, the captain, pulled off a dummy pass which fooled the Austin side.

Preston was stopped two yards from the line, but Don Robertson, who was coming up hard in support, took the inside pass to score a well-deserved try. Gunn kicked the conversion.

Austin kicked a penalty goal at the beginning of the second half to tie the score. The Aggies came close to scoring several times, but frantic tackles stifled the attempts.

A questionable call may have cost the Aggies the title, when Bruce Mills was stopped from putting the ball down in Austin's end zone. Instead of a scrum five yards out, the referee called a 25 yard drop out. Since A&M was forming a scrum and thus off balance for the referee's call, Austin quickly took the kick and chased it into the Aggie end zone to take the lead, 15-9.

On a penalty 25 yards out, Giles Fort sped around the Austin defense to touch down. Gunn's conversion tied the game again.

The Aggies dominated the remainder of the game, but two trips across the Austin line were nullified because of lack of control of the ball. In the closing minutes, A&M was penalized 20 yards from its goal, and Austin capitalized by making the kick to give them the 18-15 margin.

Gunn accounted for 33 points in the two-day affair, leading the fine performance of the Rugby Club.

Next Saturday afternoon the A&M Maroon squad will host San Antonio at 3:00 p.m. on the Main Drill Field. This game is towards the Texas Northern Division Championship, which at present is in a three-way tie with A&M, San Antonio and Austin Gold vying for position.

Bruins advance to semifinals

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins advanced to the Stanley Cup semifinals by wrapping up their series with Toronto with a 3-2 victory over the Maple Leafs Tuesday night on Ken Hodges' goal at 7:38 of the third period.

The stubborn Leafs pulled into a 2-2 tie with less than 14 minutes remaining on veteran Norm Ullman's goal at 6:09 of the final period. But the Bruins bounced right back to take the best-of-seven series 4-1.

Linemates Phil Esposito and Wayne Cashman set up Hodge, who beat Toronto goalie Bernie Parent with a 10-foot drive. Hodge also got the winning goal in the fourth game at Toronto Sunday night.

The Bruins, who will meet the winner of the Minnesota-St. Louis quarter-final series, spotted Toronto one goal midway through the opening period as defenseman Jim McKenny took a pass from Dave Keon and scored on a power play.

The Bruins tied the score 4 1/2 minutes later as Fred Stanfield hit an open corner for his third goal of the series.

John McKenzie put Boston ahead with the only goal of the middle session.

WHAT TO DO WITH COLOR CUBES

Mix all five designer colors for a very modern setting, or select one, two, or three-color cube combinations; blue and green for a bedroom, yellow and green, a sewing room, or yellow, orange and blue, a child's playroom...

Use your Color Cubes to construct a two-sided room divider; simply alternate the open cubes in both directions.

Cubes can be wall-mounted for a "floating bookcase" over beds and desks... An open-top cube is a wastepaper basket, a firewood bin, a toy box, a planter. An open-side cube is a telephone stand, an aquarium container, a bookcase, a record rack... Color Cubes can be turned over to form mini-tables; when topped with a cushion pad, the square cube becomes a stool, the rectangular cube, a window seat or bench...

Make a game table by mounting a checker board on top. Or add a piece of cork and use as a cocktail table for hot and cold drinks... Upright 15"x30" cubes can support glass or wooden slabs for a dining table design; when the same cubes are used horizontally, this becomes a coffee table... Even after years of wear, you can refinish Color Cubes for a whole new look. Cubes can be re-painted, or antiqued, or covered with wallpaper or printed fabric... Play the furniture game with Color Cubes! The next move is up to you...
