Maroon - White Game set for Saturday

By JOHN CURYLO
Battalion Sports Editor

The squad has been divided, and the Aggie football team is ready for Saturday's Maroon-White Game, the final scrimmage of spring training.

The A&M team has been working out since March 21, with only Sundays, Mondays and the Easter holidays off. The Aggies have held four intrasquad scrimmages similar to this weekend's game.

Coach Emory Bellard and his staff have decided to put the first team offense and defense—the Maroon squad—against the second team—the White squad. This has been the format for the previous scrimmages.

Lex James will guide the Maroon offense in the 3 p.m. game. The senior quarterback pulled a hamstring in the first scrimmage of the spring, but he has been working out this week. His understudy will be sophomore Don Dean, who doubles as the White quarterback.

The Maroon defense has Max Bird and James Dubcak at the ends and Bill Wiebold and Boice Best at the tackles. The linebackers will be Dennis Carruth on the strong side, Grady Hoermann in the middle and Kent Finley on the weak side. In the secondary, Corky Sheffield and Robert Murski are the cornerbacks and Dwight LaBauve and Larry Ellis are the safeties. Murski will do the punting and Roberto Payan will kick the placements.

The White defense has Mike Sweat and Don Long as the ends and Kevin Owen and Ted LaBauve as the tackles. Mike Bruton is the strong side linebacker, while Mike Hulin is in the middle and Ray Pool on the weak side. Cliff Billingsley and Allan Bryant are the cornerbacks, and Al Thomas and Steve Carter are the safeties. Bill Nutt will be the punter, and Pat McDermott will kick placements.

Admission to the game is free for adults and $1.00 for students high school age and under. All students will be admitted on activity cards, and faculty members can get in on last year's season ticket book covers.

Some of the football recruits will be introduced at halftime, along with several basketball prospects.

Tracksters at Kansas Relays

By BILL HENRY

Coach Charley Thomas takes a meager squad of 14 to the tough Kansas Relays this weekend hoping his injured speedsters can come through and make a good appearance.

"Our hopes lie mainly in the sprint medley relay," Thomas conveyed. "We have two good 220-yard dashmen in Billy Porter and Marvin Mills, a good 440 man in Doug Brodhead and a good 880 man in Willie Blackmon. We should be contenders for first place if our people remain healthy."

Injuries have been the key to Thomas' problems this season as he hasn't taken a completely injury-free squad to any meet so far.

"Our injuries have really hurt us," he explains. "We thought we'd have a good club this year but we just haven't gotten it together yet. Injuries have killed us."

The Kansas Relays, held in Lawrence, is one of the nation's top collegiate meets. Such performers as Jim Ryun, Randy Matson, Dick Fosberry, Skell Isakson, Dave Roberts, Al Furbach and many others headline the extravaganza.

"This meet is comparable to the Texas Relays held a few weeks ago in Austin," Thomas said. "You really have to have super-performers to qualify for the finals in any event. There are no giveaways at this one."

Like the Texas meet, the main events will be relay races. On the agenda are such relays as the sprint, sprint medley, 880, mile, two-mile and four-mile races.

Individual events will include the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, one mile run, six mile run, pole vault, high jump, shot put and discus. The challenge, however, lies in that all individual events are open and anyone can enter. All performers will be competing against Ryun, Matson, etc., on an even basis.

"When you compete against these top performers, you can really tell how good you are in your event," Thomas said. "It's no longer being the conference best but being the best in the world. When you win in Kansas, you know you are a great athlete."

Aggies traveling to the meet this weekend are Phil McQuire, high jump; Marvin Taylor, high jump; Harold McMahan, pole vault; Alan Swaggerty, 440-relay; Frank Ybarbo, six mile; Tim Brown, discus; Scotty Jones, 120-yard high hurdles; Edgar Harvey, 120-yard high hurdles; David Prince, 440-yard intermediate hurdles; Blackmon, Mills, Porter, Brodhead and Wayne Mills.

After the return home, next weekend the Aggies will venture back to the Midwest to compete in the Drake Relays. This meet will be held in Des Moines, Iowa and will also draw some of the nation's best athletes.

All the top performers won't compete at Drake as the Penn Relays in Philadelphia are scheduled the same weekend.

Bruins trounce Blues in hockey tilt

BOSTON (AP)—Veteran Johnny Bucyk scored three goals and Eddie Westfall contributed a pair as the high-powered Boston Bruins mauled the St. Louis Blues 10-2 Thursday night for a 2-0 lead in their Stanley Cup playoff semifinals.

The 36-year-old Bucyk scored the first goal on a power play in the opening period, collected another while the Bruins had man advantage again in the second period and then tallied Boston's ninth goal for the second playoff hat trick of his career.

The Bruins fell just one goal short of the playoff record of most goals in a game set by Montreal Canadiens in 1944.

The Blues, beaten 6-1 by the Bruins in the best-of-seven National Hockey League season opener, outshot Boston 30-18. However, the Bruins completely dominated the action and scored much better marksmen.

Other Boston scorers were Esposito, Ace Bailey, John McKenzie, Mike Walton and Marcotte.

The Bruins scored three goals in the first period, two in the second and then hiked the score to 6-0 before the Blues broke into the scoring column.

Mike Murphy banged in his own rebound to spoil goalie Gerry Cheever's shutout bid at the end of the finale. Less than a minute later, Phil Roberto stole Carol Vadnais' pass and scored the other St. Louis goal.

Decathlon record broken at relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Phil Mulkey, one of the old men in the Kansas Relays, shattered the masters world decathlon record Thursday by stacking up 5,638 points during the 47th running of this track and field carnival.

Mulkey, a 40-year-old insurance executive at Birmingham, Ala., broke the record of 5,503 set last March 11 by Brayton Norton of Santa Clara, Calif., in Honolulu.

An athlete must be at least 40 to be eligible for the masters.

The relays decathlon title was taken by Gary Hill of Oklahoma Christian College with 7,530 points, 70 points shy of the 7,600 required for qualification to the Olympic trials.

Mulkey competed with the collegians, he said, "because I wanted to break that masters record." He was not eligible for the championship.

Hill beat out Mike Wedman of Colorado who had 7,470 points, with a belated burst in the 1,500 meters.

Hill had to turn on the steam to beat Wedman, he said, by 25 seconds in this event to win the decathlon, and became aware of this when he heard Wedman's time during the race.

Workouts back at Texas camp

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas football coach Darrell Royal said Wednesday's scrimmage was bad as any he's seen in his years here.

"No aggression. It was throwing two wool socks together. You couldn't hear anything. It wasn't bad — it was pitiful," Royal said.

The first string offense defense worked against each other, as did the second string. "I'm starting my 16th year at Texas and I think that's as bad as I've seen," Royal said.

There have been reports of lower enthusiasm than usual for the Longhorns' spring practice, which some attribute to spring heat and some to four straight Southwest Conference championships.

Meanwhile, Texas got the news when Oklahoma announced Wednesday it had signed Dr. Smith, 6-foot-3, 225-pound line backer for Navarro Junior College, to a national letter of intent. Texas had signed him in conference letter of intent.
