

Classics, recent films scheduled for the Grove this summer favorites, classics and more film favorites will be seen summer at A&M in the Me- Student Center's "movies under the stars" program. The Grove Theater opens Mon- with Lee Marvin and Jane in "Cat Ballou." Grove movies continue nightly through August 16 except holi- and during summer session exams. Show time is 8:30 A. A comedy or short will be with each feature film.

Admission is free to ID card- presenting TAMU students. Tick- ets for others are 50 cents per adult and 25 cents for children under 12. Favorites from previous years are Frank Sinatra-starring "Rob- in and the Seven Hoods" and "Ocean's 11," John Wayne in "Donovan's Reef" and "The Mouse That Roared," with Peter Sellers and Jean Seberg. In the same category are "Bridge on the River Kwai" and "The Fountainhead," featuring Gary Cooper and Patricia Neal. More recent hits include John Wayne's "Chisum," "Born Free," "Viva Max" and "The Great Race," among others. Science fic- tion such as "Forbidden Planet" and "The Day the Earth Stood Still" and Vincent Price horror movies are scheduled. Fourteen profs named outstanding Fourteen A&M faculty members have been selected for the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Educators of America." Nominations were made by university administrators, with each selected faculty member's biography appearing in the annual volume. Educators from TAMU include Dr. Garland H. Cannon, professor of English; Dr. Wulf Koepke, associate professor of modern languages; Dr. Charles L. Boyd, associate professor of veterinary medicine and surgery; Dr. Floron C. Faries Jr., associate professor of veterinary parasitology, and Dr. Kenneth Pierce, professor of veterinary pathology. In addition, Dr. Clinton A. Phillips, finance head; Dr. Robert L. Skrabanek, sociology and anthropology head; Carroll D. Laverty, professor of English; Dr. Robert R. Reilly, associate professor of educational psychology, and Dr. L. B. Treybig, professor of math. Also, chemistry professors Dr. Roger D. Whealy, Dr. James K. Gladden and Dr. Dwight C. Conway, and Walter S. Manning, associate professor of accounting.

A&M registrar named as advisor to foreign school

A&M Registrar Robert A. Lacey will serve as a special advisor during June to the Graduate Schools of Agricultural Sciences at Casterlar, Argentina. He will work with the director of the new graduate schools in developing administration and records systems. The Argentina college, established a year ago, is receiving technical assistance from a consortium made up of educators from TAMU, Michigan State and Pennsylvania State Universities. Lacey also will be in Balcarce, Argentina, to work with the animal science branch of the graduate schools. That program is directed by TAMU faculty members.
