Coordinators helping international students

A helping hand was offered international students at A&M this summer by college students who expect in return only a heightened sensitivity and awareness to people. Providing a variety of experiences, friendship and concern are Penny Edmonds, a senior elementary major at Baylor, and Elton Bost, English senior at North Texas State.

Bost, English senior at North Texas State.

They are "international coordinators" through the Division of Student Work of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"We are sharing God's love and meeting the needs of international students while they are away from home," explained Bost (as in Boston).

"They need people to understand them," he emphasized, noting that help and understanding are paramount and no attempts are made at conversion.

Bost and Miss Edmonds stressed greater interest in having activities for international students continued after they leave rather than their contributions made known.

"These fine young people have something going all the time," commented Charles F. Hornstein, TAMU foreign student advisor for the dean of men. He lists 292 international students at TAMU this summer. In a regular semester, it averages 650.

The Baylor and North Texas students from Tyler and Houston have arranged Saturday evening World Scope programs, covered-dish dinners, music night, a panel on international dating customs and weekend trips.

A&M international students went to Houston in early July for a tour of KPRC-TV and Astro-world. They stayed in family homes, arranged by Bost through his church, First Baptist Church, Heights.

A recent San Marcos trip was for an international student conference attended by A&M, University of Houston and University of Texas, Austin, students. TAMU students, Bost and Edmonds also attended a Dallas conference. On another weekend, a Lake Somerville outing was arranged.

The international students have been away from their families so long, they are hungry for that type of interest being shown in them," Bost remarked.

A World Scope program featured a student-prepared Chinese dinner for 50 and a talk on recent Chinese history by Dr. Jing Chao of the Thermodynamics Research Center.

Shortly after their arrival in early June, the Baptist Student Center - headquartered students helped three new TAMU students from Switzerland locate living quarters and get settled.

"We contacted close to 280 international students, with help from the Housing Office, and personally met over 100," Miss Edmonds said.

personally met over 100," Miss Edmonds said.

Expenses of workers like Penny and Elton are administered through the Baptist convention, but acquired through cooperation of Baptist Student Unions of Texas colleges and universities.

Miss Edmonds said 85 individuals such as themselves are in a variety of programs, in inner cities, with children and overseas. Applicants are interviewed at the institution and again at the state level for such work. There were 135 applications for the 85 positions.

Penny and Elton will say their "goodbyes" Saturday after a covered-dish supper and film at the BSU center. They are particularly concerned that programs such as world scope be continued.

They are certain the summer's experience will have marked effect on their lives.

"I've become more aware of people around me and their differences," Miss Edmonds said. "I think I've learned to accept their ideas and opinions."

"It has helped me realize there are beautiful people of other nationalities," Bost added. "If we can open our lives to them and remain open to exchange, we can fulfill many of our own needs."

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind. There's something wrong in America . . . and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend church school and church—MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes sir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about it, we ought to do something! And we ought to start Sunday!
