

A&M graduate of 1971 to study in Europe

Miss Eva L. Zweifel, 1971 A&M graduate in recreation and parks, departs Sept. 1 for graduate study in Europe under Rotary Foundation sponsorship. Miss Zweifel received one of 70 Rotary Foundation Awards for International Understanding in May, 1971, supporting her travel-study.

She will study international tourism and leisure at the University of Paris in 1972-73. The Rotary award will pay all travel, educational and living expenses. Miss Zweifel, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. E. L. Zweifel, Rt. 1, Bryan, has been at the University of Quebec 14 months, teaching, studying and practicing her French, conducting research in leisure studies, working on provincial government projects and traveling.

"My contact with students and work required me to work in French, play in French and think in French," she said. "I learned to snow ski and ice skate, too."

Her graduate work at the University of Paris will begin with a six-week intensive language school. Miss Zweifel's study program at the Universite Rend Descartes, a branch of the University of Paris, starts two weeks later.

Her master's degree studies of leisure will include a travel-study program through which Miss Zweifel will visit Prague, Czechoslovakia; Sweden, and Hamburg, Germany. The Rotary award includes a 90-day extension provision.

"I will also have opportunity to participate in a group study related to comparative study of the leisure of seven countries, directed by Mr. Joffre Dirmazier," the Bryan High School graduate noted.

While in France, Miss Zweifel will visit the family of Laurence Dedidou, an exchange student at Bryan High School last year. Miss Dedidou's father is a cultural affairs official in Paris.

Miss Zweifel's counselor in France, assigned by Rotary International, will be Claude Vuitton, president of the Paris Rotary Club.

A Distinguished Student at TAMU, Miss Zweifel studied four months in Europe at her own expense during 1969. She also worked for the National Recreation and Park Association in Washington, D. C., a summer and was delegate to state, district and national recreation and park conferences.

Since returning to the U. S. in July, she has worked as a technical assistant in TAMU's Recreation and Parks Department.

Indonesians use Aggie War Hymn to teach army recruits to march

The eyes of Texas may be upon folks in the Lone Star State, as a certain college song contends, but the Aggie War Hymn is heard around the world.

Latest evidence comes from Dr. Paul D. Torrey of Austin, who recently returned from an oil consulting assignment in a remote area of Indonesia, where the A&M music is used to inspire army recruits as they learn to march.

No one is sure who introduced the Aggie War Hymn in the South Pacific, Dr. Torrey reports, but whoever it was played it enough to attract the attention of the commander of the local guard unit. The officer borrowed a recording, summoned his bandmaster and ordered him to memorize it and teach it to all his men.

"The unit has about 20 drummers and 20 trumpeters who are well versed in the music and seem to take great delight in playing it," relates Dr. Torrey, who it should be noted for the benefit of skeptics, is not an Aggie.

Everyone was duly impressed when they learned the "great significance" of this music, assures the prominent petroleum engineer, and even more so when he confided in them about plans to adopt the Aggie War Hymn as the Texas state anthem.

A&M coed wins crown

Debbie Smith faces a busy freshman year at A&M.

Besides her studies in horticulture and extra-curricular activities of a first year TAMU student, Miss Smith will be making a number of parades, pageants and festivals around the state.

It will be part of her responsibilities as 1973 Aqua Beauty, representing the 1972 Austin Aqua Festival.

An 18-year-old brown-eyed, brown-haired beauty, Miss Smith was selected from among 30 contestants for the title during Austin's annual celebration.

As the Aqua Beauty, she will represent Austin and the Aqua Festival in parades, pageants and festivals for one year. Her predecessor, Kathy Lynn White, represented the festival at Corpus Christi's Bucaener Days and the National Cherry Festival at Traverse City, Mich.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton O. Smith Jr., Austin and was sponsored by the University Optimist Club. Her reaction to being named Aqua Beauty: "I can't believe it. I don't know what to say."
