Edward Rumold completes Ranger training at top of class

Edward P. Rumold, who once stressed his mission at A&M is an Army officer commission, completed summer Ranger training at Fort Benning, Ga., at the top of his class.

Rumold scored 976 of 1,000 possible points in the nine-week course, reported Col. Thomas R. Parsons. The nearest competition scored 929.

Parsons attended the recent Ranger class graduation ceremony at 5th U. S. Army representtative. Rumold was cited as the Distinguished Honor Graduate and received the Camp Commanders Leadership Award.

The class was composed of 230 cadets from 125 universities. Completing the course were 213 cadets, of which 196 were awarded Rangers tabs.

"We had five cadets in the class," the TAMU commandant said. "All received tabs."

Colonel Parsons said an additional nine TAMU cadets are in the next class, to graduate August 31.

"I had opportunity to visit with them for two hours before they departed for the final three-week mountain training phase," he added. "Class leaders at the time were two Texas A&M cadets. I'm confident both will be honor graduates and one of them will be the Distinguished Honor Graduate."

Other phases of the rugged course include jungle training in Florida and conditioning at Benning, along with regular Ranger class training conducted there.

Seven Aggies including 1971-72 Corps Commander Tom Stanley of Mt. Pleasant won the yellow and black Ranger tab last summer. Honor graduates of the 140-member class were Jan C. Bertholf of Annandale, Va., and Stephen O. Swanner of Pasadena.

A Company E-1 cadet in the corps, Rumold has split studies at Texas A&M around three-years Army service in which he made buck sergeant and was decorated with the Silver Star and two Purple Hearts.

During a June, 1970, fire-fight in the "Fishhook" region of Cambodia, Sgt. Rumold called gunship fire within 10 meters of his position and napalm with 75 meters. He was an instructor on the Pathfinder committee of the Airborne Department at the Benning Infantry Center and, among other accomplishments, is airborne qualified. Other decorations worn by the senior political science major of Phillipsburg, N. J., include two Bronze Stars, 11 Air Medals, three Army Commendation Medals and the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross with Silver Star.

Vet medicine program here

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association's mobile educational program is located this week at A&M College of Veterinary Medicine.

"The World of Veterinary Medicine" is a series of slides-and-sound programs showing the profession in layman's terms. Located in a mobile home in front of the veterinary complex, the facility is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday. The four audio-visual stories are on the veterinarian's education, space veterinary medicine, a day in the life of a practicing veterinarian and a report on the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) epidemic last year.

Mochring attends forest workshop

Dr. David M. Mochring of A&M recently participated in a Southern Forest Soils Workshop at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

Sessions of the three-day workshop covered geology, soils and forests of the Cumberland Plateau and Highland Rim. Woodland soil survey interpretations, site evaluation for pine and upland hardwoods and soil survey information in forest management were discussed.
