

Greer Named Asst. Dean

John O. Greer has been named assistant dean of the College of Architecture and Environmental Design at A&M.

The announcement was made by Dean Edward J. Romieniec and is effective Sept. 1.

Greer, who has been Assistant Research Architect and Management Services Director for the college's Architecture Research Center, succeeds James R. Foster. Foster has accepted a position with Marmion & Mok, Architects and Planners of San Antonio. His resignation is effective Aug. 31.

Greer is a 1957 A&M Architecture graduate and served as an instructor here from 1963 until 1965 in conjunction with his masters' work. He rejoined the university in 1971 after five years as a partner in the Nacogdoches architectural firm of Maynard and Greer. He received his license as a registered architect in 1961.

The 38-year-old Port Arthur native is currently secretary for the Brazos Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. He also serves on the Organizing for Practice Committee of the Texas Society of Architects.

Marksmen Aiming For 3 Rifle Teams

Tryouts will be held Sept. 5-7 for three rifle teams to represent A&M during 1972-73.

Shooters can take aim at berths on a women's team, a university-wide men's team and ROTC team, according to SFC Max M. Schill.

The only ROTC-supported activity open to all TAMU students, the rifle teams practice and shoot matches at the six-point basement range in the Military Science Building annex. Trips to various competitions are made during the year.

Sgt. Schill said the all-university team tryouts will start at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 5. The Cadet Corps ROTC team will fire tryouts Wednesday, Sept. 6, and girls' team Thursday, Sept. 7, both at 5 p.m.

"Interested students should come by in advance to sign up for a tryout time, so they won't have to wait," Schill said.

The team coach, who shot on the national champion team in 1964, said "We're interested in new people who want to shoot. We would like them to have previous experience, but that's not a requirement."

TAMU teams won trophies at the National Rifle Association sectional, 5th Army Smallbore Match, San Antonio Fiesta Matches and set a new men's scoring record in taking first places for both men and women's teams at the 23rd Southwest Invitational Smallbore Tournament at El Paso. They compete in the Southwest Rifle Association.

Sgt. Schill noted the three teams return virtually all shooters except Wayne Jordan, top scorer on the all-university men's team. Jordan is now in graduate school. His wife Nancy will fire on the women's team, considered a possible national winner this year or next.

"The competition for new shooters will be tough, but they could make a team," Schill added.

A 16-year Army veteran who served a recent tour in Vietnam with the 1st Cavalry, Sgt. Schill fired on rifle teams in national competitions. He wears the "100" badge, an honor among the nation's riflemen. He is one of the nation's top riflemen at selected national
