

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's re-election campaign won't be hurt by the furor over the June 17 break-in and bugging of Democratic party offices, John Mitchell said Tuesday.

The former Nixon campaign manager spoke to newsmen after completing 1 hour and 45 minutes of secret testimony in the Democrats' $1 million lawsuit over the June 17 incident.

Five men, two of them with links to the President's campaign staff, were arrested that night with electronic eavesdropping gear, photographic equipment and rubber surgical gloves inside the Democrats' offices at the Watergate Hotel. Government investigators have since traced $114,000 in one of the arrested men's bank account back to Nixon's campaign.

"I don't believe it's hurting the President's campaign," Mitchell said.

The former attorney general called it a "ridiculous caper" that newsmen have "blown out of all proportion."

The President's top campaign leaders aren't responsible, he said. "If people act without authority, then there is clearly no responsibility of the people in command and control," he said.

Mitchell wouldn't discuss his testimony because of a court secrecy order, but said he had answered all questions asked by the Democrats' lawyer in the case, Edward Bennett Williams.

Attorney Henry B. Rothblatt, who represents the five men arrested in the case, confirmed that Mitchell had answered all questions.

Last Friday Mitchell had refused to answer questions because Rothblatt had asked the court to halt any further testimony in the case.

Saturday federal judge Charles R. Richey temporarily blocked Williams from questioning the five arrested men, but allowed him to go ahead with taking depositions from Mitchell and others not facing criminal charges in the case.

Meanwhile defense lawyer Rothblatt said he'll call former Democratic party chief Lawrence

F. O'Brien and perhaps nine other top Democrats to give more secret testimony in an attempt to uncover what evidence will be used against his clients.

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Experts say fish in the Clyde River are growing bigger because a nuclear power plant dumps warm water into the river, speeding multiplication of the microscopic organisms that the fish eat.
