PHNOM PENH, Cambodia — The ranking American diplomat in Cambodia escaped a powerful terrorist bomb Wednesday morning, but the blast killed three Cambodians and set afire the diplomat's armored limousine, authorities reported.

Thomas O. Enders, the 6-foot, 8-inch U.S. charge d'affaires, emerged unhurt from the battered wreckage of the car. He was on his way to the U.S. Embassy, where he is in charge while Ambassador Emory C. Swank is on home leave in the United States.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — More than 3,500 persons are expected here Saturday for a joint convention of the Texas Association of School Administrators and the Texas Association of School Boards.

Among topics to be discussed will be policy making in light of court decisions, character-based education, year-round schools, community education and data processing for small schools.

The three-day meeting will be held at the Convention Center.

PEKING — American antiwar activists, accompanying three American prisoners of war released by North Vietnam on their journey home, disclosed Tuesday that Hanoi says spying devices have been found in U.S. packages sent to POWs.

Cora Weiss, leader of the four activists, said after viewing a display of the electronic equipment allegedly hidden in such things as cans of milk, "It looks to us an unmistakably professional job."

A Pentagon spokesman, Maj. Gen. Daniel James, said, "The charges are too ridiculous to dignity by trying to address them in detail."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — In his strongest speech in four years condemning United States involvement in Vietnam, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared Tuesday that the U.S. is carrying on an "unprecedented expansion" of the Vietnam War.

He demanded the withdrawal of all American troops.

Race Relations Specialist Joins A&M Education Faculty

A school-community relations and community education specialist who has consulted on school race relations has joined the A&M educational-administration faculty.

Dr. Raymond D. Terrell, 37, was administrative assistant to the superintendent for community relations in a Cincinnati, Ohio, school district until late August.

Dr. Harold L. Hawkins said Terrell will chair the Educational Administration Department's public relations option as Dr. Paul Hensarling directs more attention to Teacher Placement Services.

Terrell also will teach courses in school-community relations, school special services and staff personnel relations and supervise administrative interns located in school systems over Texas.

The new assistant professor helped found Interracial Interaction Inc., a corporation of black and white professionals that consults with school districts on race relations.

Terrell is the 1972 president of the firm and chapter past president of the Ohio Community School Education Association.

"I. I. I. is a group of six professionals—three blacks and three whites — which did consulting work in Cincinnati, modeling healthy relationships in schools," he explained.

Establishing a good "trust level with the media" was Terrell's goal as assistant to the superintendent in Cincinnati's Princeton school district. One of his PR jobs involved helping keep schools open through a bus driver strike that idled a third of the district's 86 buses.

University Judicial System To Be Evaluated Thursday

A meeting Thursday of university staff and students will consider a recommendation by the Student Senate on the proposed university judicial system.

Bill Hartsfield, instrumental in bringing the resolution before the Senate at the end of last year, said the main point of the resolution is to recommend all information on university judicial processes and the offices that handle them be compiled in one place. He added that all the information was available, but scattered throughout the University Regulations.

The recommendation also seeks to develop a consistent method of establishing dorm judicial councils and the powers they have.

After consideration of the resolution the committee will make a recommendation to President Jack K. Williams' office. Therefore, action on the recommendation should occur in two to three weeks.

Attending the meeting will be Associate Dean of Students Howard S. Perry, Dean of Men Charles W. Powell, Dean of Women Toby Schreiber, Dr. Haskell Monroe and Kent Caperton.

Students attending the meeting will be Layne Kruse, Ron Kranevek, T. Mark Blakemore, and Hartsfield.
