18-year-old Vote Spells Door For Out-Of-State Tuition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Passage of the 26th Amendment to the Constitution, extending voting rights to 18-year-olds, may lead to a revenue loss running into the hundreds of millions of dollars for state colleges and universities.

This is the potential loss from nonresident fees at state schools if adult status, legal residence and voting rights for students in college towns make them exempt from nonresident tuition charges, according to Dr. Robert F. Carbone, dean of the School of Education at the University of Maryland.

On behalf of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges and the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, Carbone surveyed nearly 400 four-year colleges which are members of these groups.

"If adult status and voting rights for college-age citizens eliminate nonresident tuition charges in public colleges and universities," Carbone said, "the effect on higher-education costs will be staggering."

Schools surveyed by Carbone enrolled this fall 463,867 students who paid a differential of $329,699,000 for state colleges and universities.

About half the institutions responding, Carbone said, indicated they had inquired into reclassification. In general, Carbone said, requests for reclassification have been denied on the grounds that the university's criteria for residency are not based on a registered voter of the state.

Undoubtedly, he concluded, the question of determining what will be decided in the courts. A new California statute gives 18-year-olds adult status for virtually all purposes, Carbone said, and this has been interpreted to mean an out-of-state student could commence his year-long residential requirement to be eligible for the state tuition fees.

The one-year duration requirement for earning nonresident tuition purposes in Maryland was upheld in a U.S. Supreme Court decision. Carbone advised students to start searching for realistic alternatives to the resident tuition.
