A&M Water Polo Team To Participate In Tough Northern California Tourney

The A&M water polo team flew to San Francisco today to participate in the Northern California Aquatic Federation Water Polo Tournament which runs through Saturday.

The tournament, which features some of the finest teams in the nation, should give the Aggies valuable experience for future competition.

The 32-team affair is to be played in eight brackets of four teams each. The Aggies are in the bracket with San Jose State, Fullerton City College and Humboldt State.

A&M is also slated to see action against San Francisco State, West Valley College and the University of Santa Clara.

The starting unit for the Aggies has put one Texan in its seven members. Fred Meyers and Lester Hamann, both of Redwood City, Cal.; Gordon Brown of Los Altos, Cal.; Jim Yates of Santa Clara, Cal.; Steve Prentice of Pasadena, Tex.; Mike Hicks of Farmington, N. M.; and goalie Paul McKinzie of Sunnyvale, Cal., comprise the starting team.

Meyers and Brown are co-captains and Yates is the only freshman on the starting team.

The remaining members of the 15-man traveling squad are Steve and Dan Sonnenberg of Houston; Larry Schueckler of Clarence, N. Y.; Mike McLellan of San Antonio; Mike Shary of McAllen; Martin Litteken of Wichita Falls;

Lee Devis of Studio City, Cal.; and Steve Engle of Hollywood, Fla. David Russo of El Paso is the team manager.

40 Drivers Here Sunday

Over 40 of the nation's leading race drivers will invade the Texas World Speedway this weekend for the running of the Royal Triton ARCA 300.

Drivers from nine different states and one from Canada will be on hand when practice gets underway next Friday afternoon at 1 p.m.

Entries include ARCA superstars such as Iggy Katona, 57 year old two-time winner of the Daytona ARCA 300 from Willis, Mich., Andy Hampton of Louisville, Ky., the second man to defeat Daytona twice and Ron Hutcherson from Keokuk, Iowa, the '72 ARCA National champion.

Among the top chauffeurs from Texas are H. B. Bailey who competes in NASCAR's Grand American Series, Tony Bettenhausen, Jr., Ronnie Chumley, John Haver and Phil Cronin, all from Houston. San Antonio drivers are Clarence Lovell and Paul Jett. Joe Plowman of Galveston and Louis Wusterhausen of Austin give Texas the largest number of entries for the ARCA classic.

The Royal Triton ARCA 300 is expected to be one of the fastest and most competitive races ever held at Texas World Speedway.

Qualifying for all 40 starting position will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Pre-race ceremonies which include a concert by the A&M Consolidated High School Tiger Band starts at noon and the green flag for the Royal Triton ARCA 300 falls at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Aggies Prepare Behind Closed Doors

The Texas Aggies have all their injured players back in action but are practicing behind locked gates in preparation for their SWC opener against Texas Tech a week from Saturday.

Fullback Brad Dusek, halfback Mark Green and tight end Homer May, all of whom missed the Army game, are hale and hearty again. Defensive tackle Boice Best, who re-hurt a knee in the Army game, was back at work Tuesday.

Coach Emory Bellard said he'll keep practices closed until the Tech game here Oct. 14.

Defensive end James Dubeak, who was demoted to the third unit after a poor performance against Army, turned in his uniform. Two other reserves also quit - junior college transfer Wayman Walker and sophomore Mike Frazier, the latter to join fall baseball workouts as a catcher.

A re-evaluation of all positions after the 24-14 loss to Army brought about few early changes. Paul Hulin moved from no. 2 left end to no. 1 right end on defense and freshman Ed Simonini currently is running ahead of senior Dennis Carruth at left line-backer.

Two other freshmen - Dennis Smelser of Odessa Permian and Blake Schwarz of Houston Memorial - were moved up to the defensive unit in second-team roles. Smelser is a right tackle and Schwarz at left end.

Celanese Gives

A&M Annual Gift

Celanese Corp. presented its annual gift to Texas A&M Tuesday, awards totaling $4,500 to the Departments of Chemistry, Chemical Engineering and Mechanical Engineering.

Dr. G. B. (Bill) Stiles, who received bachelor, master's and doctorate degrees in chemical engineering from TAMU, gave checks of $1,500 each to the three department heads.

Placement Director Robert C. Reese pointed out this is the second straight year Celanese has made $4,500 grants to the university, bringing total donations during the past five years to $15,000.

Antarctic Food Study Aided By NSF Grant

Study of the carbon pathway in Antarctic marine food systems will be continued at A&M through a $24,000 National Science Foundation program.

Dr. William M. Sackett of the Oceanography Department directs the research begun two years ago.

By tracing the carbon pathways, flow of nutrient materials in the food chain can be determined. From this, the dependence of organisms on others, from simple to complex levels, can be better understood.
