

Nixon Spending Twice McGovern's

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committees set up to finance President Nixon's re-election campaign have spent at least $22 million since April, almost double the amount spent for Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern.

New reports filed with the General Accounting Office showed Tuesday that while the chief Nixon finance committee was slightly in debt earlier this month, its numerous satellites had a minium of $4.7 million going into the final two weeks of the campaign.

McGovern's key campaign committee, McGovern for President, Inc., of Washington, D.C., showed a cash deficit of $107,000 and debts of $2.86 million. But contributions appeared to be flowing in at a greater rate than those for the President.

The expenditures of the two presidential candidates were culled from more than 1,000 pages of reports from dozens of committees.

The reports cover the period Sept. 1-Oct. 16, but also include cumulative totals going back to April 7 when a new federal elections law went into effect requiring disclosure quarterly and on the 15th and 5th days before a primary or general election.

Because of a delay caused by the federal government's observance of the Veterans' Day holiday

Monday, when the reports were due, the GAO had processed only a few of the hundreds of reports on hand.

Those available included six major Washington-based Nixon committees and 20 state committees. Only cumulative totals were available for McGovern for President, Inc., and the GAO said it would be another day before the full 2,100-page report was processed.

THE COLOGNE CHAMBER ORCHESTRA, conducted by Helmut Mueller-Bruhl, will perform in the Bryan Civic Center tonight at 8 p. m. It will perform selections of Bach, Mozart and Telemann.

Orchestra To Perform Tonight

An intimate evening with the music of Bach, Mozart and Telemann will be provided tonight at A&M by the Cologne Chamber Orchestra.

The European organization conducted by Founder-Director Helmut Mueller-Bruhl will open the new Artist Showcase Series, at 8 p. m. in the Bryan Civic Auditorium.

Helmut Mueller-Bruhl founded the Cologne Chamber Orchestra in 1960 to present concerts in the 200-year-old Augustusburg-Bruhl Castle near Cologne. Success led to establishment of a series of 25 concerts at the castle each season.

The orchestra, recipient of Grand Prix du Disque and the Grand Prix du Discophiles recording awards, also has toured extensively in Europe and the Far East.
