

SAINT THOMAS' EPISCOPAL CHAPEL AND STUDENT CENTER
906 Jersey Street
(Southern Boundary of Campus)
Telephone: 846-1726

Sunday, 8 and 9:30 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.
Tuesday, Canterbury Eucharist and Supper, 6:30 p. m.
Thursday, Holy Eucharist and Breakfast, 6:30 a. m.

The Rev. James Moore, Chaplain. The Rev. W. R. Oxley, Rector

Aggieland Flower & Gift Shop

209 University Dr.
846-5825

AGGIELAND BACKING THE AGGIES ALL THE WAY!

BEAT ARKANSAS

TAMU Football Mum Corsages
Special Design and Special Ideas For That Special Girl.

Make Your Bonfire Preparations Now!

BONFIRE NITE

Town Hall Presents A
TAMU Special Attraction

John Denver

With

Meg McDonough

Tickets On Sale Nov. 9

Tickets & Information — 845-4671

TAMU Town Hall

About Maurice Angly...

He's the candidate for State Treasurer who has pointed out Jesse James' role in the Sharpstown scandal.

State Rep. Maurice Angly is an Austin attorney with a thorough knowledge of state government. He's a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law. He's married to the former Surrenden Hill and they have three children.

Since 1967 he's been a hard-working, effective legislator. He was one of the original small group of legislators who stood firm last year and spoke out for a full investigation of the Sharpstown scandal.

Rep. Angly is the only Republican ever elected in Austin. He has been reelected twice, as the top vote-getter among all GOP candidates on the ticket, because he earned bi-partisan support.

He pledges to run the treasurer's office as a public trust for all of the taxpayers of Texas. He won't play favorites as James has done for years in placing the State Deposits.

On November 7, vote for reform and responsible state government with Rep. Maurice Angly for State Treasurer.

Pd. Pol. Adv. By Angly for Treasurer Committee
Loretta Rouse, Chairman

Pd. Pol. Adv. By Angly for Treasurer Committee
Loretta Rouse, Chairman

- Catering
- Dining Room

3C — BAR-B-Q

810 South Main

Bryan

Phone 823-8441

- Orders To Go
- 11-9 Daily Closed

Heisman Trophy Candidate

Ferguson-Led Hogs To Challenge Ag

By KEVIN COFFEY
Assistant Sports Editor

Arkansas brings a team which has its ups and downs this season to face the Texas Aggies Saturday afternoon.

The Hogs started the season on a sour note when they lost to USC in their opener. Rated number four in the country in pre-season polls and an almost cinch to win the Southwest Conference, the Razorbacks dropped their annual shootout with Texas and a Cotton Bowl berth looks bleak for Arkansas. However they are a highly talented team which could get a bowl bid if they win the rest of the contests.

Arkansas lost only five starters from last year's 8-2-1 Liberty Bowl team. They return 33 lettermen, five of which gained all-Southwest Conference honors. They are coached by Frank Broyles whose .743 winning percentage ranks among the top ten in the country among active coaches.

Heisman Trophy candidate Joe Ferguson leads the Arkansas offense which runs mostly from an "I" formation. Last year he led the conference on total offense and was selected the league's offensive player of the year.

Bill Henry

You'd think after losing six straight football games the Texas Aggies would be miserably behind in statistics. Right? Wrong!

The Aggies have outgained the opponents in total offense by almost 100 yards (2,091-1,997). In rushing, the Aggies have the edge 1196 to 1164 and passing 899-832. They have more yards in returns 577-522 and have thrown three fewer intercepted passes.

In seven games the Aggies have fumbled 33 times and lost 20. The opponents have fumbled 15 times and lost only five. That gives the Aggies about twice as many fumbles but four times as many lost.

You'd also think that the Aggies would be terribly outscored overall. Well, that's false. They have averaged losing by a little over eight points per game. That includes a 30-point loss to Nebraska and a 25-point loss to LSU. A&M has lost all three conference games by a total of eight points: Tech won 17-14, TCU won 13-10 and Baylor won 15-13.

A&M has an average per game total offense mark of 299.3 and stands seventh in the conference ahead of only Baylor. In defense, the Aggies are ranked second, allowing only 285.1 per contest behind the nation's best, SMU, with 281.5.

The use of freshmen in major college football at the beginning of the season was thought to be very slight but around the conference and here at A&M, the use of the "rookies" has had a traumatic effect.

Here, freshmen have done a super job for the varsity. Bubba Bean, Skip Walker and Alvin Bowers are third, fourth and fifth on the team in rushing. Bean and Carl Roaches are tied with Mark Green for the scoring lead with 18 points. Richard Osborne leads the team in pass receptions with 22 for 316 yards and Roaches is third with eight catches for 144 yards.

Roaches also leads the team in punt return yardage with 12 returns for 138 yards and kickoff returns with eight returns for 215 yards. Walker is second and Bean is third.

Ed Simonini is quickly catching up to the leaders in tackles after getting his first starting assignment against Tech.

Overall in the conference, freshmen are really doing a job. Wayne Morris, SMU, is the conference's fifth leading rusher with a 91-yard per game average. He also possesses the SWC's longest rushing play from scrimmage with an 82-yard run against New Mexico State.

Kenny Harrison, SMU, is the SWC's third best pass receiver with 17 receptions for 330 yards. Over half that came against Rice over regional TV a couple weeks ago with eight catches for 177 yards.

Osborne is the SWC's seventh leading receiver and Roaches is the third best punt returner.

I'm sure it is of little consolation to coach Emory Bellard but when "Bear" Bryant began coaching here back in 1955, his first season was 1-9. But, his next year was 7-2-1 and only a 21-6 loss to Texas kept his team out of the Cotton Bowl. The next year the Aggies were 9-0-1 with the tie coming against Houston. The next year, 1957, the Aggies were rated No. 1 in the nation with an 8-0 record going into the next-to-final game against Rice. They ended the season with three losses from there on: Rice, 7-6, Texas, 9-7, and Tennessee in the Gator Bowl, 3-0.

Another slight consolation may come in the fact that the 1949 Texas team had a 3-3 conference record after losing to SMU and TCU by one point and dropping a runaway two-point decision to Rice. Texas came back from the 1949 snakebites to claim two outright SWC titles and a share of a third in the next four years — That's a consolation.

Tickets may still be picked up for the Arkansas game in the athletic business office up until Saturday says Wally Groff, business manager.

A TAMU SPECIAL ATTRACTION

G. ROLLIE WHITE COLISEUM

WEDNESDAY NOV. 8 8:00 P.M.

Reserved Seats $5.50, $5.00, $4.50
A&M Student & Date $3.50
Patron $4.00
Everyone buys a ticket

Tickets & Information at Student Program Office
845-4671

TAMU Town Hall