MACHINE INTELLIGENCE BEST-Retired Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said Americans make poor intelligence agents, for lack of patience. The Wednesday Political Forum speaker cited the U. S. as the world leader in technical fields of gathering infor-

'Intelligence' Is Not A Dirty Word, Declares Gen. Taylor

Intelligence forms the "raw materials of presidential decision-making" and is an essential, justifiable and moral activity of government, retired Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor contends.

"Intelligence is not a dirty word," the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and presidential consultant claimed. "It goes along with leadership, manpower and military hardware to make the United States a safe place to live."

He cited the Bible (Numbers 13), in which the Lord instructed

'Monterey Pop' Movie Set For Friday Showing

The movie "Monterey Pop," a documentary film about one of the first rock festivals, will be at the Campus theater.

This is the first presentation of a series of music oriented movies sponsored by station KBCS-FM, planned for midnight showings. "Admission will be 103 cents in advance at Budget Records, and $1.25 at the door," said Glenn Marpole, KBCS-FM gener-

Fish Run-Off Elections Slated For Wednesday

A run-off election for the freshman class officers of president and vice-president will be held Wednesday.

"A run-off must be held as neither of the top two candidates in these positions received a majority vote in the election Tuesday," said Jack Barlow of the election board.

The presidential run-off is between Greg Knape, who received 237 votes Tuesday and Philip Bohlman, who received 180 votes. Andrea Hur will run against Stephen C. Smith in the run-off for vice-president. Hur received 176 votes Tuesday while Smith
