Big Brother Will Be Watching Saturday Afternoon

here Saturday afternoon when defensive left tackle position. A&M freshman Skip Walker and brother Cornelius from Rice get together.

It won't be just team against team for the two Del Valle natives, it will be head to head confrontations. Skip has been given another starting nod at right half-

It'll be brother against brother back while big brother mans the Skip related. "He just wanted to play with him at Rice," Skip said.

It seems that Cornelius has already got a few good licks in on Skip at home at the dinner table. Skip at 5-10, 180 gives up four inches and 60 pounds to his sophomore brother.

"He called me Sunday night," call to remind me about the game He says that they're going to win and I just say wait and see. There is no bet on the game, but we know that whoever loses has to face the other one at home during the holidays."

Rice tried to get little brother Skip last year during recruiting season, but failed to win his heart even with a little persuasion from

"He wanted me to come and play as a freshman for the Ag- first for us not to make mistakes,"

"We've played together ever since this week and that he'll be ready. we were young. I guess I liked the coaches here better and wanted to come. Besides, Rice thought I was a little small."

> He was a little small coming here at the beginning of fall training, but he's up from 160 to 180 now and is tied for second in team scoring with 18 points. Against SMU last week, Skip got 12 of those points.

Did he think he'd ever get to thought I'd be a starter though. I also was surprised that I'd get to work out with the varsity right at first. I thought I'd probably start with the freshmen and then move up if I played well enough."

Playing as a freshman does cause some problems as Skip well knows, but he feels that he's got the hang of it now.

"There was a lot of pressure at

"I really wanted to play as a make some but we felt we should-freshman," he said. "I never n't. The fumbles were due to a lack of confidence. We were new and nervous and now we've gained some experience and things are looking up." The most difficult task Saturday afternoon will be which team does Mr. and Mrs. James Walker pull for? The "baby" of the family usually gets the attention and let's hope that the baby's team can pull its third straight confer-
