

Butz To Remain Secretary Of Agriculture

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Nixon is keeping Earl Butz as Agriculture secretary but is replacing Commerce Secretary Peter G. Peterson with South Carolina textile manufacturer Frederick B. Dent, the White House said Wednesday.

As part of President Nixon's second-term Cabinet shuffle, Peterson will take on a temporary special mission to Europe and Asia, then return to private life.

There were signs that the former Bell and Howell Co. president was eased out after losing a bid to become an international economic policymaker and after falling from favor among Nixon's closest advisers.

Sources said Peterson turned down an ambassador's job in Europe before losing his bid to handle international economic policy under Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz who is being given wide economic powers in Nixon's second term.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen at the Camp David presidential retreat that Peterson's departure results not from a rift with Shultz, but from a "joint decision" between Nixon and the man who succeeded Maurice H. Stans as commerce secretary in February.

While Butz is being retained in the second-term Cabinet,

White House officials said Nixon has ordered a broad shakeup of the Agriculture Department to make it "even more responsive to farmers' needs based upon today's problems."

Undersecretary of Agriculture Phil Campbell conferred with Nixon at the rainy and fog-shrouded mountain top retreat Wednesday, but it was not clear how this was related to the coming shake-up.

Wednesday's announcements at a news conference reduced to two — attorney general and transportation secretary — the Cabinet posts yet to be covered by Nixon in his shuffle.

Word is expected soon that Richard G. Kleindienst will remain as attorney general and that John Volpe will step down at Transportation to become ambassador to Italy, the land of his ancestors.

Dent, whose nomination requires Senate confirmation, is a 50-year-old Yale graduate who has been president of Mayfair Mills since 1947.

A native of Cape May, N.J., he now lives in Spartanburg, S.C.

He is no relation to White House political adviser Harry Dent, who also is from South Carolina.

As the President worked in his Aspen Lodge office, Ziegler announced a pair of nominations to key Treasury Department posts.

He said William E. Simon of New Vernon, N.J., will succeed Charles E. Walker as deputy Treasury secretary, and that Edward L. Morgan will succeed Eugene T. Rossides as assistant Treasury secretary for enforcement, operations, tariff and trade affairs.

The resignations of Walker and Rossides were announced Tuesday by the White House.

In addition to working on his reorganization plans, Ziegler said Nixon was keeping in touch with and giving instructions to his No. 1 foreign-affairs adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, who is in Paris negotiating with North Vietnamese leaders.

Services Building Renamed

The Texas A&M University System Board of Directors has renamed the Services Building in honor of the late Reed McDonald.

McDonald, who died last December, had served as director of the Feed and Fertilizer Control Service, now housed in the Services Building, from 1959 until his death. He was a long-time member of the TAMU staff, having begun his career as a mailing clerk for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1927.

McDonald later served as assistant cashier in the Extension fiscal office, the university fiscal office, and was executive assistant of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station from 1935 to 1949. He also was assistant comptroller for the system from 1949 to 1955. He became auditor for the Feed Control Service in 1955 and director in 1959. The agency was changed to the Feed and Fertilizer Control Service in 1961.

The long-time TAMU employee contributed much in the development of both the Texas Commercial Feed Control Act of 1957 and the Texas Commercial Fertilizer Control Act of 1961. He worked with various segments of feed and fertilizer industries, consumer organizations concerned with these industries and technical personnel of the A&M University System and other agencies.

Situated at the corner of Ross and Ireland, the Reed McDonald Services Building also houses offices of University Information and Publications, the Department of Agricultural Communications, Journalism Department, Student Publications, Texas Transportation Institute Publications, Agricultural Analytical Services,
