Now 4-0 After 67-64 Win Ags Overtime Victors

By BILL HENRY
 Battalion Sports Editor

Shooting as cold as Tulsa's seven-degree weather, Texas A&M pulled out a 67-64 overtime win over Oklahoma State last night, running its undefeated mark to 4-0.

It was the first road trip for the tall and talented Aggies, who for the first time during this young season had to fight from behind to gain victory.

OSU led during the entire contest with two exceptions. A&M led at the beginning 2-0 and 59-57 with 1:31 remaining in the contest. With 32 seconds left, OSU tied it up again at 59-59 but the Aggies had possession of the basketball.

With eight seconds remaining in regulation play, Mike Floyd got the honors of trying for the final bucket but was called for a charging foul as his soft jump shot trickled off the rim.

With that time remaining,

OSU's Andy Hopson got the ball but couldn't get the shot off before the buzzer due to a tremendous defensive effort by Jeff Overhouse as the game went into overtime.

Overhouse, hitting for only seven first half points, was to be the hero of the night's overtime victory for A&M.

The Aggies jumped out to a three-point lead 63-60 with a bucket by co-captain reserve guard Bob Gobin and two free throws by Overhouse.

With 2:27 left, however, OSU cut the lead to one point. Gobin missed the first of a one-and-one situation as Keven Fitzgerald, OSU's leading scorer, popped one in from the corner, giving OSU a 64-63 lead with 1:02 left.

A pass from Gobin to Cedric Joseph put A&M back in front 65-64 with :40 left. While beginning to set up for the last shot, Gobin snatched away an OSU pass and for the first time A&M was in the driver's seat.

Hopson fouled Overhouse with three seconds left and the big senior immediately put the two gratis pitches in, giving A&M the three-point win.

OSU had leads of 10 points four times during the contest but couldn't contain A&M when the going got rough.

The first was 31-21 with 3:57 left in the first half but A&M's zone press enabled the flustered Aggies to score 10 straight points to give the Aggies their first tie, 31-31. OSU did finish the half with a 33-31 lead on two Fitzgerald free throws.

The final 10-pointer was 47-37 with 12:04 left in the game. A&M again scored 10 straight points to tie it up 49-49.

In all, the game was tied nine times, eight coming in the second stanza.

A&M returns home Monday night for a 7:30 contest against George Washington University.

Landry Defends Cowboys On Season's Performance

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Coach Tom Landry said that if the Cowboys finish the season with only three or four losses "we haven't backed into anything" as far as the National Football League playoffs are concerned.

Should the Cowboys tie or defeat either Washington or the New York Giants in their last two games, the defending Super Bowl titlists will earn a "wild card" spot in the playoffs.

Landry said Dallas' 9-3 record was the third best in professional.

He said the Cowboys "have been judged as not playing well at all" because of super seasons by unbeaten Miami and once-beaten Washington which wrestled the Eastern Conference crown from the Cowboys.

"The standards are different this year," Landry said. "We usually come into the playoffs with three or four losses."

He said "right now there is no question that Miami and Washington should be the favorites for the Super Bowl . . . but that doesn't mean they'll be there when Super Bowl time rolls around."

Landry said the Cowboys had yet to gain the "momentum" they had in drives to the Super Bowl in 1970 and 1971.

We're not playing as well as we have the last two years in the stretch drives," Landry said. "We've got to eliminate errors. We had very few mistakes in our stretch drives. But we have an ingredient you always need — togetherness."

The Cowboys meet the Redskins Saturday in Texas Stadium in a nationally televised game.

Landry said Dallas would give a "better mental attitude than we did the first time. We weren't playing with the intensity we should have then."

He said the game had important "psychological" impact for both teams.

"We could put some doubt into Washington's mind if we can win," Landry said.

Reeves Ponders Arizona Post

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dan Reeves, a player-coach for the National Football League Dallas Cowboys, is "very interested" in the head coaching job at the University of Arizona, the Phoenix Gazette said.

"I haven't been contacted by university officials," Reeves was quoted as saying. "In fact, I haven't even applied for the job, although I'm very interested."

"Actually, my involvement in the situation came about when an Arizona alumnus who's taking a stock broker's class with me now recommended me for the job."

"I'd be glad to talk to them after our season is over. I realize that they want to get someone quicker to begin recruiting, but I have an obligation here. We want that Super Bowl money."

Roaches Only Aggie Named As Conference Stat Leader

DALLAS (AP) — Final Southwest Conference football statistics show it was the year of the underclassmen.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors won six of the 10 individual statistics titles in 1972.

Rice athletes accounted for half of the 10 crowns.

Quarterback Bruce Gadd won the passing with an average of 15.5 completions per game; Owl tight end Gary Butler snared the receiving crown with an average of four catches per game; defensive back Bruce Henley had seven interceptions to lead in that department; Mark Williams was the No. 1 punter with a 38.9 yard average; and Gadd led in total offense with 179.6 yards per game.

Texas' Roosevelt Leaks, The Associated Press' SWC Player of the Year, was the top rusher, averaging 109 yards per contest.

Alvin Maxson of SMU was the top scorer with 78 points and an average of 7.1 points per contest.

Carl Roaches of Texas A&M was the top punt returner with a 15.1 average with Lawrence Williams of Texas Tech the conference and national kickoff return champ with a 30.8 yard return average.

Arkansas' Dickey Morton won the tandem offense of rushing and receiving with a 115.8 yard average.

SMU claimed the total defense title by two-tenths of a yard per game over Texas, allowing an average of 275.1 yards to 275.3 by the champion Longhorns.

SMU was best against the rush, allowing 127.7 yards per contest. Baylor had the best pass defense, surrendering 90.5 yards per contest.

Offensively, Texas paced the ground game with an average of 276 yards per game while Tech led in total offense with 368.5 yards per game.

Rice was tops in passing offense with an average of 210.5 yards per contest.
