

Fate Of 56 POWs Unknown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-six Americans known to have been prisoners of war in Southeast Asia remain unaccounted for by North Vietnam, the Pentagon said Monday.

Defense Department spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said an initial name-by-name analysis indicates that there were "56 men that we had previously carried on our list of prisoners of war that are not on either list" received from the North Vietnamese.

Officials said these men were known to have been alive in Communist prison camps at some point during the war.

Two lists turned over to U. S. officials in Paris Saturday by the Communists identify 555 U. S. fighting men captured in North and South Vietnam and 55 others who died.

There also were no clues to the whereabouts of 1,269 men listed as missing in Southeast Asia, including more than 300 lost in Laos during air strikes against enemy supply routes.

"We don't have any further information about them at this point," Friedheim told newsmen. But he said a list of the missing and captured in Laos was expected shortly.

"We're continuing to seek clarification on that through diplomatic channels" in Paris and also through the four-power joint military commission, he said.

The commission — comprising the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong — will supervise the ceasefire during the first 60 days until the International Control Commission takes over.

Friedheim said the Laos list was expected despite the continued U. S. bombing of Communist supply lines in that country. "We don't see any connection there," he replied when asked if the bombing would jeopardize the release of POWs and an accounting of the missing.

Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., said unless the Communists provide a full accounting of all Americans there will be "massive resistance" in Congress to North Vietnam.

In outlining terms of the peace agreement, presidential adviser Henry Kissinger had said the issue of economic aid would be discussed only after implementation of the agreement "is well advanced."

Friedheim reported that an analysis of the POW list provided by North Vietnam showed some discrepancies and variations with information previously known by the Pentagon.

The Defense Department had carried 591 Americans captive and 1,334 missing — a total of 1,925.

He said the total has now been revised upward to 1,935 — including 555 Americans awaiting release from prison camps in North and South Vietnam, 55 POWs who died, 56 prisoners still unaccounted for and 1,269 now carried as missing. Asked about the 10-man difference, Friedheim said he was unable to offer an explanation yet. "I don't think you should expect a perfect correlation between our figures before we had a list from the Communists and this figure. It's never going to correlate perfectly."

Texas House Acts In Open Meetings

JUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members tentatively approved a Monday tightening of the state's open meetings law and applying it to the legislature for the first time.

The vote was 137-6 and came after 4½ hours of debate.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said the measure would come up for a final vote Tuesday. That would put it on the Senate for further consideration. The bill is part of Daniel's nine-bill "reform" package.

Two major changes were made in the bill over the objection of Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, the sponsor.

One, by Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas, would make it a misdemeanor, with penalties up to six months in jail and a $500 fine, to charge a public official "intentionally and falsely" or with an intent to injure or harass him, with taking part in a closed meeting.

The other amendment, by Rep. Tom Uher, of Bay City, was adopted 77-67. It restored the provision of the present law that allows government bodies to hold closed meetings when they discuss hiring employees.

Nuclear Power

is released into the atmosphere.

The only pollution factor in a nuclear plant is the discharge of warm water into cool water such as lakes, rivers and the ocean. This discharge will have some effect on the characteristics of that water.

In the Southwest there is no cause to worry about the warm water discharge. It is a regional problem," said Cochran.

With the developed technology available to us at this time we have found no existing problems we can't handle," Cochran continued.

"There is a problem in building nuclear plants in that citizen groups of various kinds get concerned because they don't understand what a nuclear plant is and they are afraid of it," Jones said. "This has caused delay and expense in building."

"We've got to prove there is nothing to be afraid of through operating nuclear plants," said Cochran.
