ENGINEERING, MATH AND PHYSICS MAJORS

The Navy has a challenging field open to second semester juniors and all seniors who are majoring in engineering, math and physics. The Navy is looking for highly-qualified officers to operate nuclear power engineering plants aboard nuclear powered submarines and surface ships. In addition, the Navy is also looking for qualified men and women to serve as instructors and research officers at one of two Nuclear Power Schools, or at the Division of Naval Reactors at Arlington, Virginia.

Each officer will receive one year of training consisting of 24 weeks at a Nuclear Power School and 26 weeks at a Nuclear Power Training Unit, a training program that is unmatched anywhere in the world. Submarine officers will also receive a 5-week course of Submarine School. Chances for additional training and post-graduate courses are excellent. The new and highly-complex Navy of today looks upon its nuclear power officers as the ones who will lead the Navy in the future. Stop and see a representative of the Officer Information Team who will be in the Memorial Student Center today through March 2 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Campaign Gift Questioned

NEW YORK (AP) — A $200,000 cash contribution was secretly made to President Nixon's campaign last April, three days after a new law requiring public disclosure went into effect, according to papers filed in U. S. District Court on Tuesday.

The money came from a Nassau, Bahamas, bank allegedly controlled by Robert L. Vesco, a New Jersey financier whom the Securities and Exchange Commission accused last November of playing a leading role in the alleged looting of $224 million from Investors Overseas Services Ltd. Harry L. Sears, a lawyer who ran the Nixon campaign in New Jersey, told the SEC on Feb. 20 that he and the president of Vesco's International Control Corp. delivered the cash in person to Maurice Stans, the finance chairman of the Committee to Re-elect the President, on April 10, 1972, in Washington. The law went into effect on April 7.

A spokesman for the Nixon campaign committee said in Washington the $200,000 and a subsequent $50,000 contribution by Vesco had been returned last month to the financier.

The spokesman said the $200,000 was actually "made available to the committee in New York on April 6" but because of a "late change in plans . . . it was not actually delivered until a few days later."

The Finance Committee to Re-elect the President released a Jan. 31-dated letter to Vesco in which it said it was in the best interests of both parties to return the money. It cited the civil suit pending against Vesco and his business interests.

But the spokesman said, "Under the circumstances the money was constructively in the hands of the campaign committee" on April 6, the day before the new law went into effect.

The money had been transferred April 6 from Bahamas Commonwealth Bank to Barclay's Bank in New York and then driven under armed guard to International Controls headquarters, according to Sears' testimony.

Sears, whose testimony was made public Tuesday, also testified at one point Edward C. Nixon, the president's brother, went to International Controls headquarters in Fairfield, N. J., to discuss the contribution.

Sears testified that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in early 1972 tried to set up a government meeting regarding the SEC's investigation of Vesco.

'Welcome Home' Ceremony Honors Returning Local POW

Elements of the Corps of Cadets will participate Sunday in Conroe's "Welcome Home" ceremony for Capt. James E. Ray.

A 1963 Texas A&M graduate, Capt. Ray was among the first prisoners-of-war released by North Vietnam.

He has been in the Wilford Hall Medical Center at Lackland AFB since arrival from the Philippines Feb. 15. Ray has been released from the Medical Center for 30-days convalescent leave. He was held in North Vietnam more than six years.

A city-wide welcome is planned for Capt. Ray at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Conroe High School football stadium.

Representing A&M will be Squadron 9, Capt. Ray's outfit when he was an undergraduate; part of the Second Wing staff, a contingent of the Ross Volunteers and the Fish Drill Team. Squadron 9, commanded this year by Mark A. Cuculich of Center, will serve as an honor guard.

Col. Thomas R. Parsons, commandant, said TAMU will provide bus transportation for the official representatives.

A sizable portion of the Corps of Cadets also is expected to attend the ceremony.

Ray was 2nd Wing executive officer as a senior, a Distinguished Student and Distinguished Air
