Kleindienst Orders Gray Not To Answer Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Under order from the attorney general, L. Patrick Gray III refused continuously Tuesday to answer questions on material contained in FBI files.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said the order by Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and President Nixon has given what he called a "black eye" to Gray, who testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee during hearings on his motion to be the FBI director.

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., said Kleindienst's action "clearly demonstrates that the attorney general is concerned about revelations contained in the Watergate file. We have learned some things from information provided by Mr. Gary; the question is 'how much more is there in those files?'"

At the White House, a Nixon administration spokesman said support of Gray for the FBI post has not diminished and that Nixon had not abandoned him, as alleged in a newspaper account.

"I have the impression that the President's support is exactly the same as when he sent the nomination up, and that is full," said Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a leading administration spokesman on Capitol Hill.

Scott said, however, that the administration support of Gray

1973 Weather Running Drier Than Normal

More showers with less rain per shower is the trend for early 1973 which is running 10 per cent drier than normal through February.

January was wetter than normal, but February fell short of the average with only 2.55 inches in the Carters Creek catchment area in Bryan and College Station. Three inches is normal for February.

The 30-day outlook is for below normal precipitation of 2.4 inches or less and above normal temperatures reaching a 64-degree mean. The outlook was issued by the National Weather Service for mid-March to mid-April.

February precipitation including two snowfalls ranged from 1.81 to 3.71 inches in the B-CS area, according to data from an A&M meteorology research project. All other readings by 34 weather observers were between 2.06 and 2.94 inches.

Kurten had the 3.71-inch total for February. The below-two-inch reading was in the 400 block of Mitchell Street. College Hills produced the 2.94 and several stations in South College Station and the east part of the region gauged 2.75 or more for the month.

The A&M Meteorology Department weather station gauged 2.37 inches on eight rain days. February temperatures ranged from 76 on Feb. 5 to 28 on Feb. 10 and hit a 52.0-degree mean, two and a half below normal.

Rainfall in the East Yegua Creek basin west of Caldwell averaged 2.27 for February.

"does not include the television spectacular on Capitol Hill."

"The White House has nothing to hide," he said. "And that is an authorized statement."

Gray declined to discuss what he called "matters of substance." In his five previous appearances, Gray has discussed data contained in the FBI files and supplied, upon request from committee members, the information pertaining to investigations conducted by his agency.

Under orders given to him Monday, Gray said, he could make information in the FBI files on the bugging of Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex available to four persons — the committee chairman, the ranking minority member and the counsel for both political sides of the committee. Previously he said any member of the Senate, but no staff member, could see the material.

Gray said he did not question the orders of the attorney general because "I'm a bureau chief in the executive branch. I serve at the pleasure of the President. I take my orders from the attorney general. I do accept those orders."

Alpha Lambda Initiates New Members

Texas A&M has initiated 76 women students and two faculty members into Alpha Lambda, women's scholastic society.

The society honors first year students. It promotes intelligent living, a high standard of learning and encourages superior scholastic attainment.

Membership in Alpha Lambda is open to all freshmen women who meet scholastic qualifications. The student must be registered for a full course of study leading to the bachelor's degree and earn a scholastic average of 3.5.
