Halls To Be Occupied Sunday

Fall semester students will begin occupying residence halls Sunday.
 Upperclassmen who have not preregistered will move in first to prepare for the start of fall classes Sept. 3.
 Housing Manager Allan Madeley said other rooms will become available according to scheduled activities for students.
 New students attending a two-day makeup conference next week will check in Tuesday Aug. 28.

Preregistered Cadet Corps freshmen will report Thursday, Aug. 30, and preregistered civilians, freshmen and upperclassmen, can occupy rooms the following day.
 Returning cadet upperclassmen will move in Saturday, Sept. 1.
 Hall assignments for the fall semester include 15 residence halls and part of another for civilian men, four for women, 10 for the Cadet Corps and Henderson Hall and part of Crocker for athletes.

Residence halls for men are Dunn, White, Utay, Hart, Law, Puryear, Leggett, Milner, Walton, Hotard, Moses, Davis-Gary, McInnis, Moore, Schuhmacher and part of Crocker, Madeley announced.
 Women will be housed in Fowler, Hughes and Keathley Halls on the west side of the campus, and in Krueger Hall.
 Cadet Corps facilities will include Spence, Kiest, Briggs, Fountain, Gainer, Lacy, Leonard, Harrell, Whiteley and Harrington Halls.

The Aggie GOURMET

By S. SHARIQ YOSUFZAI
 As the summer draws inexorably to its end, we feel the time has come to summarize the various types of cuisine we have sampled in this space. This column will be different from ones in the past inasmuch as we will try to rate these restaurants on a G.P.R. The main consideration in rating the restaurant is the quality of food and the service. Atmosphere is given virtually no points other than a minimum standard of cleanliness, and creativity is expected. We have included certain restaurants which by no stretch of the imagination can be called "gourmet" but they are included here because they are frequently visited by students. What follows may be called the "Aggie Gourmet Guide to Restaurants."

Trader Vic's — This is truly one of the finest overall restaurants in Texas. Stay away from their Chinese food. Try the Trader Vic's Green Soup, Malaysian appetizers, Rangoon crab, stuffed shrimp, cosmo salad, Indonesian lamb roast or hot Indian shrimp curry. Top off your meal with a Koka ice-cream flambe. The only bad part about Trader Vic's is the forward nature of the waiters in respect to their tips. The drinks are excellent. Try the Mai Tai, frozen daiquiri, London sour or whiskey sour. Trader Vic's is located in the Shamrock Hilton in Houston on the corner of Main and Holcombe streets. We think Trader Vic's deserves a G.P.R. of 3.75.

Veterans attending A&M under the GI bill may have some money waiting for them at the Veterans Affairs office on the first floor of the YMCA.
 Those GI bill students who reacted correctly to a letter mailed to them early this summer by the Veterans Administration can now pick up their advance payment checks in the YMCA.
 The checks represent a partial payment for August and all of September, according to Howard S. Perry, associate dean of students.
 Perry also advised veterans who plan to attend both Fall and Spring semesters to make sure of their status for payment of benefits during the Christmas break.

The Oakridge Smokehouse in College Station intrigued several people with its "all you can eat" shrimp night. Not only do you have to wait two hours to get served and lose your appetite by the time the food finally arrives but you are also greatly disappointed with their fried shrimp. The Oakridge Smokehouse deserves a G.P.R. of 0.75.

The Texan is located in Bryan and has very good food. Start off your meal with the French onion soup or the beef teriyaki. For an entree try the flaming shish kebabs, the shrimp tempura or the chicken Neapolitan. We give the Texan a G.P.R. of 3.40.

New Sociology Course Offered
 For the first time at Texas A&M a formal course on the Mexican American population is being offered for this fall.
 The course will meet once a week — Tuesdays, 6-9 p.m. It can be taken for graduate credit and carries a value of 3 credit hours.
 Dr. William P. Kuvlesky has responsibility for the course and indicates he plans to handle the course as a seminar — stressing student involvement. He has indicated that anyone desiring to participate in the course should have as a prerequisite at least six hours of some combination of sociology, psychology, and anthropology.
 The course will stress a review of current research literature and use of expert speakers or panels on particular topics. A research paper will be required.
 The initial meeting of the class will be Tuesday, Sept. 4 in Room 310, Bolton Hall.

Jamie's Hamburgers has truly good hamburgers. The only thing wrong with Jamie's is that it does not have an A&M pennant on their wall displaying SWC paraphernalia. Jamie's chili burger is very good. It is located on Main Street in Houston and deserves a G.P.R. of 3.25.

In evaluating these G.P.R.'s keep in mind that they are essentially subjective. A G.P.R. of 3.40 and above is "excellent," 3.25-3.39 is in the "good" category, 2.80-3.25 is "fair" and below 2.80 is in the "very poor" category.
 We acknowledge the services rendered by Ted Paup, Mike Penick, Donn Webb, Joe Walker, John Rosenbaum, Barb Sears and John Nash in making this guide possible.

FOR BEST RESULTS TRY BATTALION CLASSIFIED

The Parthenon is a Greek restaurant with more of a family atmosphere. The food is spectacular but the entertainment is mediocre. Try their excellent Greek appetizers, calves livers, stuffed eggplant, stuffed grape leaves or the eggplant. Do not arrive until 9:30. The Parthenon is located on Fannin Street in downtown Houston and gets a G.P.R. of 3.30.

The Tokyo Steak House in Bryan (on Texas Avenue) has excellent food in its steak room. Try the teppanyaki steak or the sukiyaki steak with sake. The Tokyo Steak House receives a G.P.R. of 3.50.
