SWC Football Roundup

Aggie Defense Spotlited

The No. 1 defense took the spotlight Tuesday as the Texas Aggies ran through a full-scale scrimmage in light-to-heavy rain.

In one half of play, the top defenders allowed a total of five yards rushing in 18 plays and had three passes completed on them in 11 attempts for 34 yards.

Safety James Daniels came up with an interception for the Maroon unit.

"There were some real good points on defense," coach Emory Bellard said following the two and one-half hour scrimmage. "But the offense was very poor. The defense showed a lot of consistency. We still have a ways to go."

There were only three touchdowns scored in the session. Fullback Alvin Bowers tallied from seven yards out for the Maroon. Fullback Bucky Sams scored from one yard out for the No. 2 defense, and freshman split end Robert Verde caught a 42-yard touchdown pass from senior quarterback Tim Trimmer for the No. 3 offense.

The second and third defensive units, composed of mainly freshmen and sophomores, more than held their own.

No. 1 quarterback Mike Jay was held out of the scrimmage for precautionary reasons. Freshman David Shipman guided the Maroon offense until sustaining a slight knee sprain in the first half. Freshman David Walker finished the half with the Maroon offense and also guided the No. 2 offense.

ished the half with the Maroon offense and also guided the No. 2 offense.

Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Linebacker and co-captain Glen Gaspard of the Texas Longhorns has no tear in his injured right knee and will not require surgery, a school spokesman said Tuesday.

A team doctor put an elastic support on the knee after a thorough examination, the spokesman said.

Gaspard will begin conditioning drills Wednesday. He missed the two-a-day drills, which ended Tuesday.

Texas opens its season at Miami Sept. 21.

Baylor

WACO (AP)—The Baylor Bears started intense preparation for their opener Sept. 15 against the Oklahoma Sooners and will play with a rash of nagging injuries.

Dennis DeLoach, No. 1 defense end from Houston is in the infirmary with the flu. A bruised shoulder kept fullback Pat McNeil of Killeen and Gary Lacy of San Angelo out of contact work along with defensive tackle Phil Terry of Houston, who had a pulled neck muscle.

Coach Grant Teaff had a first look at freshman defensive tackle Victor Sodontik of Clute who was sidelined with severe burns suffered in a preseason accident.

Arkansas

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks worked for two hours under rainy skies Tuesday and Coach Frank Broyles said he didn't mind the wetness.

"It's the first chance to practice in the rain this fall," Broyles said, adding the Razorbacks needed a drill for handling a wet ball.

Sophomore Mike Kirkland continued his work as the No. 1 Razorback quarterback. Broyles said Kirkland would handle place kicking responsibilities, but sophomore Tommy Cheyne of Fort Smith probably would take care of punting duties.

Texas Tech

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech's Tuesday football practice was cut short by a rain and frequent lightning as Coach Jim Carlen sent the Red Raiders to the showers early.

Carlen said the Raiders will conduct a scrimmage Wednesday afternoon and again Saturday afternoon as they continue preparation for their season opener against Utah on Sept. 15.

Congress Expected to Lift Blackout On TV Football

Congress again tackles the question of television sports blackouts Wednesday and is expected to lift the local blackouts on pro football games before the 1973 regular season.

The House subcommittee on communications, which has several proposals before it to lift the blackouts, opens hearings on the issue on Congress' first day back from a month-long summer recess.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will testify before the subcommittee Wednesday.

The Senate Commerce Committee approved a measure by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., in July that would prohibit local TV blackouts of any sports events sold out 48 hours before game time. It would be a one-year experiment.

Cage Coach Resigns at TSU
