YMCA Fish Camp Held

Largest Ever with 527 Campers

The 20th annual YMCA "Fish" Camp, held August 26-28 at the Lakeview Methodist Assembly in Palestine, was the largest ever conducted, with a total of 527 campers, one-third of which were women students.

Before leaving for Palestine, the incoming freshmen were addressed by Dr. Tom Adair, assistant to President Williams. Upon arrival, Mike Penick, the camp chairman, introduced his assistant, Roger Monk, as well as the four other camps chairmen, Tom Walker, Ronny Haygood, Stan Marett and Tony Pelletier.

Guest speakers spoke to the group concerning leadership, study habits, morals and other similar topics. These were followed by discussion groups in which the students expressed their opinions on the speakers' topics.

Mixers were held each evening to give the students a chance to become acquainted with one another. The first night, the students held a rock dance, and the next night, country-western dance. The last night's dance began as an all country-western one, but the appearance of rock tapes altered the course of the evening's activity.

Despite the many scheduled events, the freshmen found time to create their own activities. The girls, led by Diana Bernhard and Anne Ramage, started off the second day by awakening the males with the Aggie War Hymn at 6:30 a.m. The men, in retaliation, launched a relentless pursuit of imaginary white rats through the girls' cabins. No rats were found, but the girls' camp was left in a disorderly condition.
