Capone to Lead LSU Defense

Returning All-American

By Ted Boriskie
 When the Aggies invade Baton Rouge Saturday, they will find the name of the game at LSU is the same as it has been for as long as most can remember—defense.

Being led by all-America Warren Capone, the linebacking corps looks as good or better than any in the nation. Capone led the Tigers with 71 tackles last year. Joining him to the left is Gary (Champagne), a converted tight end. To Capone's right is Bo Harris who was named to last year's all-Southeastern Conference sophomore team.

The front four has end Binks Micciotto as the only senior on the line. Junior Ron Daily holds down the other end. Sophomores Steve Cassidy and Rock Raiford fill in at the tackles. Cassidy made the all-SEC sophomore team as a freshman last year.

The Tigers return plenty of experience in the secondary. Cornerback Mike Williams is yet another member of the all-SEC sophomore team last year and is joined by junior Jimmy Knecht. Mike Pike and Frank Racine are the safeties.

The Tigers offense is guided by Mike Miley who had the unenviable job of trying to follow graduated all-America Bert Jones at quarterback. A high school all-America, he hit neither of two passes and was mostly confined to the specialty teams last year.

Converted defensive back Norm Hodgins starts at splitback backed by speedster Al Coffee. Coffee holds or shares LSU records in the 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes with times of 9.4, 20.5 and 45.6, respectively.

Tailback Brad Davis, another member of last year's all-SEC sophomore team, ran for 560 yards for a 4.9 average last season. Ken Addy is the fullback with a 134-yard, 4.3 average season last year.

At split end is Bert Jones' younger brother, Ben, who scored both touchdowns against Colorado last week. Returning at tight end is yet another member of last year's all-SEC sophomore team, Brad Boyd. He pulled in 22 catches for 298 yards and five touchdowns last season.

The interior line returns center William McDonald, guard Tyler La Fauci and tackle Richard Brooks but newcomers Doug Boute and Clay Cain beat out letterman Phil Moses and Russell Herald for the remaining tackle and guard posts, respectively. The five starters average out to 234 pounds per man.

"LSU completely dominated Colorado," said A&M head coach Emory Ballard in his press conference Tuesday. "They have a lot of offensive threats and they are outstanding defensively. What more can you say?"

Jay Back, Ready to Play

SWC Roundup

Texas A&M welcomed quarterback Mike Jay to practice Wednesday, and the tough sophomore showed little ill effects from an ankle sprain in A&M's 48-0 win over Wichita State last Saturday.

"I'll definitely be ready to play," Jay said after testing the ankle in a full speed two-hour practice session. Jay had missed the Monday and Tuesday drills.

No. 2 quarterback David Walker, a freshman from Sulphur, La., also looked sharp.

Kicker Randy Haddox drew applause from his teammates when he was successful on four 47-yard field goal attempts and then capped the performance with a good kick from 52 yards.

The Aggies were in high spirits as they continued preparation for their Saturday night battle against LSU in Baton Rouge.

In the first national statistics release of the season, the team and three players ranked among the leaders. Fullback Alvin Bowers was 17th in rushing with his 126-yard performance against Wichita. Mark Stanley was 11th in punting with a 43.2 average, and Skip Walker was tied for second in scoring with three touchdowns for 18 points.

The team ranked 11th in total offense with 463 yards and ninth in rushing with 361 yards. They were also 13th in punting and tied with six other teams for the lead in scoring defense.

WACO — The Baylor Bears, hobbled by injuries received in last week's game with the University of Oklahoma here, wound up contact work in preparing for the Pittsburg Panthers.

Coach Grant Teaff said, "We looked sharp in our execution, both offensively and defensively today."

Missing the workout were linebackers Don Bockhorn and center Cary Dorman. Both are starters.

Bockhorn is definitely out of Saturday's game and it was unlikely that Dorman would see action, Teaff said.

Wingback Brian Kilgore was off crutches and worked out at three-quarter speed. Kilgore is suffering from a sore foot but is expected to play against the Panthers.

The Bears "spent a lot of time on the kicking game," Teaff said. Rusty Parrott will be the starting punter despite an ankle injury suffered in the OU game.

A&M Soccer Squad Edges Texas; To Host Rice Here Next Saturday

The A&M Soccer Team slipped past University of Texas 2-1 Saturday in its first game of the season.

Goals by Mehrdad Farrokhnia and team captain Mehdi proved to be too much for the top-ranked UT team.

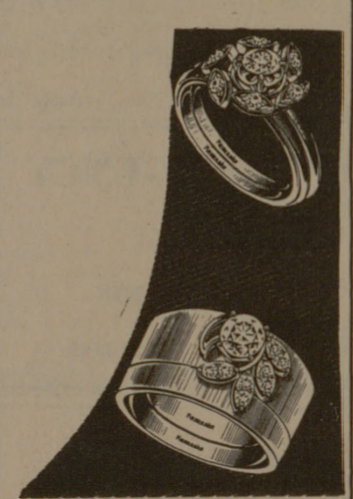

The only goal for Texas, 1972 conference winners, came on a free-kick shot, resulting from a penalty against A&M.

Although not a university-sponsored team, the members actively participate in all conference games.

In the absence of a formal coach, an elected team captain arranges the game schedule and coaches the team.

Although part of their expenses are covered by proceeds from the Exchange Store, most of the travel expenses rest with the individual players, including the use of personal cars for out-of-town games.

The next home game will be Sept. 29 against Rice at 2 p. m. on the soccer field. Admission is free.
