Ruggers to Face Kenya

Thursday at 4 p.m.

By LYNN KENNEDY

What do you get when you cross the speed of a college wing-back with the stamina of a lumberjack and mix equal parts of gentlemanly sportsmanship and that fightin' Texas Aggie spirit? This combination times 15 gets you the starting lineup for the A&M Rugby Club.

The A&M Rugby Club will enter into international competition Thursday when they meet the professional rugby touring team from Kenya on Sept. 27 at 4 p.m. on the drill field.

Rugby is a rough and tumble sport started in 1823 when William Ellis of Rugby College (hence the name) in England picked up the ball in a soccer match and ran with it. This act gave birth to the development of the game of rugby.

In many ways rugby is the most elemental game of all. Each team attempts to ground the ball behind the opponent's goal line, similarly to the over-zealous way in which football players place the ball on the ground after a touchdown, the opposing team attempts to stop them by tackling the man with the ball.

Rugby teams consist of 15 players on a side, eight forwards and seven backs, the forwards being larger and more powerful because their weight is needed in the scrum.

The scrum or maul, as it was formerly called, is simply the eight forwards trying to get the ball. The forwards are bound together and meet the opposing team in a shoving match. The ball is placed in the middle by a back.

The forwards then try to push the opponent off the ball, thus gaining possession and a chance to move it down the field by short runs, kicks and passes.

Passes must be lateral or behind the passer. It is illegal to pass the ball forward, lie on the ball, throw it out of bounds or hold onto it after being tackled.

Scoring results from a team crossing the opponent's goal line and downing the ball. This is a "try" worth four points. After the try a free kick is taken on a line perpendicular to the place where the ball was grounded. The kick is worth two points. The drop kick is worth three points and may be scored from anywhere on the field.

The club has 70 members and holds practice every afternoon from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. New members are invited. Before you put on your gym shorts, "T" shirt and rubber cleats (the only rugby uniform), remember armor is not allowed and there are two halves in regular play with a five-minute halftime and no substitutions.

The Aggie Ruggers will start six men who have played together at least three years. The scrum is "old hat" for Mark Anthony, Don Barr, John Gunn, Randy Harju, Donnie Robertson and Steve Sturman who have a combined experience of 23 years. International competition is nothing new to these veterans who have met top competition in tournaments such as the Mardi Gras National 1971, the Lone Star National 1971 in Houston, Galveston National 1972-73, and the Austin Invitational 1971 to semifinalist in the Invitational Aspen Ruggerfest 1972 and quarter finalist in the Invitational San Francisco Rugby tournament 1973. All in all, the team has a combined three-year record of 80 wins to only eight defeats.

Most importantly the A&M Rugby Club has won the Texas Rugby Union Championship for the past three years, which permanently retires the cup to the club. The Texas Rugby Union consists of three divisions, 32 teams in all. Our first 15 is always among the top 10.

The Ruggers began the new season with a win over TCU, 20-0.
