Aggies Prepare For Boston College

Expect to Encounter Big, Tough Offense

The Texas Aggies worked at full speed against Boston College alignments Wednesday with the defense getting in some hard-hitting contact work.

Defensive coordinator Melvin Robertson said the Aggie defense "will have to have their helmets buckled tightly Saturday night because Boston College has a big, tough offense."

"Their tailback, Mike Esposito, may be the best running back we face all year. They also have a couple of bullish fullbacks, an excellent quarterback, a great split receiver and their line goes about 240 pounds per man."

While the defense is gearing for an all-out battle to stop Boston College's great attack, the Aggie offense is priming to put some points on the scoreboard.

Offensive coordinator Ben Hurt said he was hopeful that senior right guard Bud Trammell would be ready to play Saturday night but that he was preparing freshman Billy Lemons to be ready to go. Trammell was not in action Wednesday because of a sprained right ankle that he received in Tuesday's drill.

There were six Aggies listed among the leaders in national statistics this week.

Randy Haddox was third in kick-scoring with 17 points on eight extra points and three field goals. Cornerback Pat Thomas was tied for third in pass interceptions with two; halfback Skip Walker was tied for sixth in scoring with 24 points; Mark Stanley was tied for 22nd in punting with a 41.7-yard average; split end Carl Roaches was tied for 23rd in pass receiving with eight catches in two games and quarterback Mike Jay was 24th in total offense with 332 yards in two games.

There still are ample tickets left for the 7:30 p. m. Saturday kickoff at Kyle Field.

Baylor football Coach Grant Teaff called Wednesday's Bear workout "crisp and sharp" and said he was happy about the effort players have shown during practices this week.

Baylor meets nationally ranked Colorado at Boulder Saturday, and Teaff said the Wednesday session was spent concentrating on Colorado's pro-I offense.

"We picked up their defense really well, offensively speaking," the Baylor mentor said. "And our defense did a really good job on defending the option and the sweep."

Don Bockhorn was among players who failed to work out Wednesday, still sidelined from a twisted knee sustained in the Oklahoma game.

Bockhorn was expected to suit up Saturday as a kicking specialist, but coaches doubted he would serve as a linebacker.

Quarterback Neal Jeffrey also has missed workouts this week with an infected left elbow.

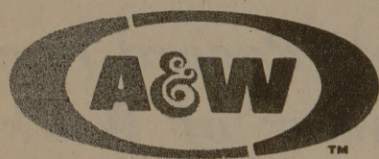

DALLAS — Southern Methodist worked Wednesday in Texas Stadium in preparing for its Saturday game against Virginia Tech.

Coach Dave Smith moved Bryan Duncan back to the fullback position. Duncan, the No. 2 fullback in the spring, had been at the injury-ridden halfback position throughout the fall.

Tight end Oscar Roan and middle guard Randy Savage were named game captains along with season captains Keith Bobo and Andy Duball.

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech tipped through a two-hour drill Wednesday in preparation for the Southwest Conference opener against Texas Saturday night in Memorial Stadium in Austin.

"The kids had good spirit today," said Coach Jim Carlen, who added that Tech worked on picking up the Longhorns' blitting linebackers and on containing fullback Roosevelt Leaks and halfbacks Joey Aboussie and Timmy Landry.

Women Softballers Expect Winning Season This Fall

"I won't accept anything less than third at state from the girls," said Toby Crow, coach of A&M women's softball team.

After five days of practice, Crow said there is a lot of potential and skill in the fifteen varsity players.

At the tournament held last weekend at Lamar University in Beaumont, the team won two games and lost three. "Considering these were the first games the girls had played as a single unit in competition and that they met two of the best women's teams in Texas, they really did well," said Crow.

In the first game, the Aggies proved to be susceptible to Lamar's strong pair of pitchers. A&M lost 13-0.

Against Texas Women's University, a rival of sorts, the girls played a well-timed, fairly mistakeless game. A&M pitcher Robin Oakley, a southpaw frosh, proved herself to be an excellent pitcher and a team leader. The opposite spin of Robin's balls threw TWU's batting off, resulting in a 8-6 A&M victory.

In the bottom of the fourth inning, A&M was trailing Sam Houston State, 6-0. A turnaround occurred and in the next three innings, the Ags had Sam Houston shivering in their boots. Sam Houston won 6-5.

Tarleton A&I proved to be little competition for the A&M girls. Pam Moulton, who is a slow but accurate pitcher, just outthrew anyone A&I pitted against her. The final score was 14-7 for A&M win.

Stephen F. Austin put it to A&M with a fine group of batters who could easily make state a real battleground.

With Robin losing control of her pitching, the Austin girls took every advantage of a good situation. The outcome was an Aggie loss, 15-8.

Three girls really proved themselves at this tourney. Oakley showed that she could get a job done well. Terri Sandvik, first baseman, had two triples and short-stop Connie Karscher, team captain, wouldn't quit.

This weekend the girls will be traveling to Denton for the TWU double elimination Invitational Tournament. They will meet the same competition.

Aggies Win Over 'Bunch' In Houston

Lester Hamman, Jim Yates and Doug Adamson were the high scorers in the Aggie Water Polo Team's defeat of "The Bunch" Water Polo Club in a game held Wednesday evening in Houston.

"They weren't as strong as we had expected," said Coach Dennis Fosdick, "But a few of their players were missing."

Of "The Bunch's" players who did show, Colin Dunn, a former A&M Water Polo player threw four of the team's five points. It took the Ag's strongest player, Steve Sonnenberg, who usually plays goalie, to contain Dunn.

Each of the four A&M teams played a quarter. "The first team played very well and the second team did a pleasantly good job. The third and fourth strings did everything we could ask of them and made only those mistakes that a group of learning players would make," Fosdick said.

The final score was 13-8 with the other seven points made by Davis, O'Brien, Reilley, Reeser, Moore, Eckels and Vanderhurst.

Buy the BSR 710 or 810.

Either way you'll get the shaft.

The BSR 810 and 710 have their brains in their shaft. A carefully machined metal rod holding eight precision-molded cams. When the cam shaft turns, the cams make things happen. A lock is released, an arm raises and swings, a record drops, a platter starts spinning, the arm is lowered, the arm stops, the arm raises again, it swings back, another record is dropped onto the platter, the arm is lowered again, and so on, for as many hours as you like.

Deluxe turntables from other companies do much the same thing, but they use many more parts—scads of separate swinging arms, gears, plates, and springs—in an arrangement that is not nearly as mechanically elegant, or as quiet or reliable; that produces considerably more vibration, and is much more susceptible to mechanical shock than the BSR sequential cam shaft system.

When you buy a turntable, make sure you get the shaft. The BSR 710 and 810. From the world's largest manufacturer of automatic turntables.
