

Famed Artist Works on 'Last Supper'

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Pietro Annigoni, painter of queens, presidents and popes will have a mystery guest for dinner in the massive "Last Supper" he is painting on the wall of an 18th century Italian church.

"Judas will be recognizable as one of my enemies," said the maestro with a smile of silken malice. "I am reviving the Renaissance custom of putting your friends in heaven and your foes in hell." Will Judas be a prominent world figure?

"No, I am not a political person," replied the Florentine master who attained world prominence in 1955 with his controversial portrait of a windswept Queen Elizabeth II wrapped in the robes of the Order of the Garter. "Let us just say one of the art entourage."

A critic perhaps?

Annigoni's smile lit up. "Wait and see, wait and see."

He avoided further identification of the Judas model and fairly danced across the floor of his Florence studio to show a cardboard mockup of the fresco that will cover more than 100 square yards on the curved wall behind the main altar in the little church at Ponte Obuggianese in northern Italy.

"The scene," he said, "will be the classical one when Christ announces that one of the twelve is about to betray him. It is difficult following in the path of the great masters, especially Da Vinci, and, of course, Christ will be a problem."

Annigoni has done portraits of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, Pope John XXIII, the shah and empress of Iran, Princess Margaret, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duchess of Kent, the maharane of Jaipur and, in 1970, another portrait of Elizabeth II.

"I thought she looked sadder than when I painted her 15 years before," he recalled. "Something had changed. She seemed no longer surrounded by the great devotion that had attended her as a young queen."

For the first and more famous portrait, done for the Fishmongers Company, the queen sat for 16 sittings of an hour or more. "She was a difficult subject. She had trouble keeping the feeling of the pose."

Does a modern artist find it cause for an inferiority complex, working in the city of Michelangelo, Giotto, Da Vinci, Botticelli and other great masters?

Annigoni considered the question for a long time.

"No," he said, "I have been inspired and encouraged by the work of the great masters. Sometimes they seem like my only friends. It is nice to have them nearby."

ACLU Urges Impeachment

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union urged Congress Thursday to begin impeachment proceedings against President Nixon, based on grounds "affecting civil liberties."

It was the first time in the 58-year history of the organization that its board of directors has voted a resolution seeking a president's impeachment.

"Virtually every administration has violated civil liberties," said the ACLU executive director, Aryeh Neier, "but this administration has been more consistent, more blatant in its violations."

Corps Member Enters National Competition

Wade F. Seidel of Brenham will represent TAMU in nationwide competition for the outstanding U. S. Army ROTC graduate of 1973.

Nomination of the 1972-73 deputy commander of the Corps of Cadets was endorsed by President Jack Williams and announced by Col. Thomas R. Parsons, commandant.

Seidel will compete for the Hughes Perpetual Trophy, awarded annually by the Secretary of the Army to the nation's outstanding ROTC graduate.

Col. Parsons said some 250 colleges and universities with four-year Army ROTC programs are eligible to name an outstanding graduating cadet in the trophy competition.

Neil L. Keltner won the 1965 award for 1966-67 display at TAMU. The Hughes Aircraft Co. sponsors the trophy featuring the U. S. Great Seal eagle standing atop a book and scroll. It was first given in 1964.

The 30-inch trophy handcrafted from bronze, marble, wood and aluminum is engraved with the winner's name and displayed at his university for a year.

Selection is based on military and academic grades, officer potential, academic and student body leadership and demonstrated qualities of discipline, courtesy, personality and character.

Dr. Williams noted Seidel graduated with honors and "actively participated in many different areas of campus activities in which he demonstrated remarkable ability to lead and excel."

The corps' second-in-command, Seidel received the Earl Rudder Memorial Award for the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for Achievement, among numerous honors.

"Lt. Seidel represents the very best in the Corps and the ROTC program," Col. Parsons said.

Business Dean John E. Pearson noted that TAMU's 1973 Hughes Trophy nominee posted a 3.99 grade point ratio out of 4.0 in accounting and won all outstanding student awards.

Seidel was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve last July. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Seidel, 604 Peachtree, Brenham.

Public Opinion Survey Shows Nixon Down

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Approval of President Nixon's performance in office dipped again in the latest Gallup poll.

Fewer than one-third of 1,505 adult Americans surveyed Sept. 21 to 24 voiced approval when asked, "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Nixon is handling his job as president?"

The approval rate was 32 per cent, which compares to 35 per cent in a poll Sept. 7-10 and 38 per cent in a poll in late August.

Nixon's popularity sank to its lowest point, 31 per cent approval, in early August during the televised Watergate hearings. His highest popularity, 68 per cent approval, occurred last January following the Vietnam peace settlement.

In the latest poll, 59 per cent disapproved of Nixon's performance and 9 per cent had no opinion.

The survey was made during discussion of the possibility of the indictment of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Also, during the time the survey was conducted, the government announced that consumer prices had experienced their biggest increase in 26 years.

Sunday Hebrews 9:1-14
Monday Deuteronomy 28:1-14
Tuesday Psalms 121:1-8
Wednesday Psalms 122:1-9
Thursday Psalms 128:1-6
Friday Psalms 144:1-15
Saturday Isaiah 40:1-11

Sunday, all over the world, Christians will unite in Holy Communion. They won't all agree on the meaning of this sacred act. Nor will they all worship in the same way. Yet they will draw close to the Lord whose truth and blessing they share. They will come to Him. And in their hearts He will come to them. No one knows how this communion is possible. Yet each, according to his own faith, believes that it happens. Mystically, symbolically, miraculously, spiritually—men use these different words to express the SOMEHOW that enflames their hearts. At a Table that spans the centuries, girds the globe, we partake of the Bread of Life—as ONE.
