Bellard Says Ags Ready

A&M Coach Emory Bellard said Tuesday there is no doubt both teams will be fired up when his Aggies open Southwest Conference play in Lubbock Saturday night against Texas Tech.

"This is an important game for both teams," Bellard said. "Texas Tech has a fine football team. They have two fine veteran quarterbacks, a lot of good running backs, and excellent receivers. Their offensive line does a fine job. Their defense attacks you. They create a lot of opportunities with their aggressiveness and Tech is quick to take advantage of mistakes."

"We will continue to throw the pass," said Bellard, "whenever we feel like the situation warrants it. We've got good receivers and should pose a threat against whoever we play." Bellard admitted that A&M has used the pass more this season than he had originally planned.

Bellard said the thing that pleased him the most about his team's 30-15 victory over Clemson was "for the first time since I've been at A&M we took the football and blocked our way the length of the field."

The Aggies had three scoring drives of more than 70 yards against Clemson.

In citing the individual merits of the line, Bellard said, "(Tackle Glenn) Bujnoch has been working at his position for just this fall but is learning fast and improving rapidly. (Tackle Dennis) Smelser is one of the most improved players on the entire squad. (Guard Bruce) Welch has really been coming along the last two weeks and is playing his best since coming here.

"(Center Ricky) Seeker was an outstanding football player when the season started and is an outstanding player now. He has been the mainstay of our offensive line all year.

"(GuardBud) Trammell played well before his injury (two weeks ago) and will be back but he is not yet playing at full strength and as of right now, (Billy) Lemons is considered our starter.

"(Tackle Mike) Bruton provides solid depth. He's not large but he has good range with excellent speed and quickness. Henry Tracy and Rocco Wiest are both fine players backing up Seeker, and Craig Glendenning and Scott Knippa are both waiting in the wings possessing a lot of talent."

"Our offensive line is young and green but they are coming, they are blocking and they are moving people," Bellard said.

The Aggie coach said quarterback Mike Jay had his best game against Clemson.

"The difference between our quarterback and Tech's quarterback is that Jay has been here eight weeks and their quarterback has had three years and three spring trainings," Bellard said.

In running 204 yards against Clemson, halfback Bubba Bean improved on his previous best by 131 yards.

"Maturity, absence of injuries and experience were the main reasons for his improved performance," said Bellard. "Also, there was a lot of good blocking taking place in front of him."

"Everybody's been waiting for him to have a game like that because he was all-America in high school but it took him a while to get adjusted to college ball. Besides, it's a long jump from Kirbyville to the Southwest Conference."

On injuries, defensive end Blake Schwartz and quarterback David Shipman are still doubtful for the game with Tech. Defensive tackle Terry Willis should be ready to play and Trammell and defensive tackle Warren Trahan will both be playing though possibly not at full strength or speed.

Intramural Results

In a game that determined Intramural Class A, League C championship, Walton faced Legett with a very confusing set of events resulting.

When Legett beat Walton, Milner took the first place slot with an identical 3-1 record. The score was Legett 6, Walton 0.

The whole problem arose from Legett's first game, against Milner. In a game which had been rescheduled, the Legett offense arrived at the game after the initial play. With this false start, Milner scored and, although caught by Legett, managed to make one additional penetration giving them the win.

With the win, a cycle began. Milner beat Legett. Legett then beat Walton; but Walton had previously beaten Milner. With the other teams' 2 and 2 records, Milner finished first with Legett second.

With this in mind, Legett is making a bid for Class Championship play against Milner, Crocker and Law. With a team comprised of freshmen who came to A&M as all-state high school players, the group is very strong on teamwork and skill.

Two quarterback-receiver combinations: Rickey Spinks and Mike Stellbeyer, Brad Stroud and David Bartlett gave the team needed offense. Bartlett proved an asset as he consistently punted 50-60 yards.

The defensive line and backs held opponents to one touchdown and no more than five penetrations in the four games played. In the defensive aspect, Lewis Shearer led the team in interceptions.
