

TCU Win Streaks on Line Saturday

Fast, Defensive Team to Oppose Aggies in Fort Worth

TCU lays two winning streaks on the line when they play the Aggies Saturday in Fort Worth.

The first is a four-game winning streak the Horned Frogs hold over A&M and the other is an unbeaten streak TCU has at home this season. Though TCU has not lost at home this year neither have they won on the road as they post a 2-2 record for the year.

The Frogs have already suffered a conference loss, a 13-5 decision to Arkansas. The Aggies have an identical SWC record, losing 28-16 to Texas Tech last week in Lubbock.

While A&M will be starting freshman quarterback David Walker, TCU plans no personnel changes but they welcome back tailback Mike Luttrell, who has been injured the past two weeks. Though Luttrell has not been impressive this season he was a terror to defense last year running for 906 yards as a sophomore. When injured against Arkansas he was replaced by Danny Scott who was injured the next week against Idaho. Scott was replaced by Ron Littleton and Kent Waldrep. Littleton ran for 107 yards on 18 carries for a 5.9 average against Idaho but all four will be ready to play against the Aggies so who will play and how much play each will get is anybody's guess.

Kent Marshall has been directing the TCU attack passing for 307 yards and running for 88 more. The senior quarterback was injured for most of last season but is considered a good shot for all-SWC honors.

Bobby Cowan is the starting fullback although he carried the ball only five times on the freshman team last year and was considered fourth string before the season started.

Steve Patterson is the flanker and the leading receiver on the club with 11 catches for 135 yards and a touchdown.

At the ends are Dave Duncan at wide receiver and John Ott at tight end.

The TCU line is considered small but fast but there is an exception to every rule and the exception in the offensive line is tackle Sidney Bond, who weighs in at a hefty 286 pounds. Merle Wang is at the other tackle with Terry Champagne and John Williams at guards and Leon Bartlett at center.

The defense is led by two all-star performers.

One is tackle Charlie Davis who tips the scales at 6-3, 260 pounds. Davis was all-SWC and third string Associated Press All-America last year and figured on several preseason all-America picks this season. He has been playing at an all-America pace wreaking havoc in opponent's backfields and recovering fumbles three times in four games.

The other defensive stalwart is linebacker Dede "Mean" Terveen. The 6-2, 235 pound junior was an all-SWC pick last year and made most pre-season all-SWC picks this summer. He leads the Frogs in tackles and picked up his first interception of the season against Idaho and returned it eight yards to set up a TCU touchdown.

Defensive End Rusty Putt has also been garnering praise this year. TCU's only five-year man, Putt has been playing at a pace that makes coach Ralph Smith figure he's all-SWU material. "It's hard to say enough nice about Rusty," said Smith. "He was probably our most consistent, most steady defensive player last year, bar none."

Defensive back Gene Hernandez is ranked sixth in the nation in interception, with four, averaging one per game. He is first in the conference in that category. TCU has intercepted 11 passes this season, only two shy of the entire 1972 campaign.

Tackle Tommy Van Wart and end Ed Robinson round up the defensive line while Mike Hanna and Gene Moser are the remaining linebackers.

Gary Whitman is the rover, Allan Hooker is at defensive back and Dennis McGehee is at safety to round out the Frog's defense.

Greg Anderson is punting at 39.6 yards a boot while Berl Simmons is 8 for 10 on PAT's and has hit three of five field goal attempts to lead the Frogs in scoring with 17 points. Defensive back Steve Braddock also handles the kickoffs.

Rice in Trouble?

DALLAS (AP)—Cliff Speegle, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, says allegations in a free lance writer's book about Rice pay-offs to football players could get the Owls into hot water if proven by SWC investigators. "It's serious enough to put anyone on probation as far as National Collegiate Athletic Association regulations are concerned," Speegle told the Associated Press.

Both Rice and the SWC are attempting to interview people mentioned in the book, "Saturday's Children" by Giles Tippet, dealing with the 1971 Rice football season.

Pi Tau Prepares For Convention

Final preparations are underway for the Pi Tau Sigma national convention scheduled this weekend at TAMU.

The national mechanical engineering honor society will send more than 120 delegates to the three-day convention, which opens Friday, noted Bill Rumbaugh, publicity chairman for the TAMU chapter of the organization.

The organization promotes communication between students and faculty in mechanical engineering. Efforts are also made by the society to promote understanding of mechanical engineering practices and ideals.

The book told of linebacker Rodrigo Barnes now with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, asking to "borrow" money.

Tippet said C. A. Roberts, a personal assistant to then head coach Bill Peterson, would phone a wealthy Rice alumnus.

"Next day a check would arrive, made out to Roberts, and he'd cash the check and give the money to Barnes," the book said. Tippet said, "Barnes could get more game tickets than the rest of the squad. By conference rules a player was allowed four tickets to each game. But Barnes could get 15 or 20. He'd sell these to benevolent alumni for as much as two or three times their face value."

Barnes told Frank Luksa of the Dallas Times Herald that the allegations in the book were "an outright lie. There was no situation where I got 20 tickets and no situation where I sold tickets to anyone. I don't believe Mr. Tippet ever observed anything he wrote about."

"When I did get more than two tickets, I gave them to parents and friends. I don't think in my whole career at Rice I gave or sold any tickets to alumni. If I gave any to them, it was only once or twice."

Barnes added, "Tippet may have gotten more tickets than I did."

Speegle told the AP that a joint investigation by Rice and the SWC was started after "The university called our attention to it before the book came out. Rice had a preview of the book."

Speegle added, "It hasn't been proven that the statements in the book were true. If it is, then the findings go before our faculty committee."

"I'm sure the National Collegiate Athletic Association is aware of the investigation. The result could be announced at our winter meeting in December. It's difficult to contact as many people as mentioned in the book. The conference office is attempting to contact them through our private investigators."
