DETROIT—Two issues remained as stumbling blocks Thursday as Ford and United Auto Workers representatives negotiated against a strike deadline just hours away.

Union President Leonard Woodcock has said the nation's No. 2 automaker faces a 10 a.m. Friday strike by 185,000 UAW-represented employees unless tentative agreement on a three-year contract is reached. The strike would be Ford's fourth national walkout.

Sources said the two major points remaining at issue were voluntary overtime and a "25

WASHINGTON—John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, said Thursday he favors continuing wage and price controls into 1974.
