Italian Reds Limit Group's Sex Life

ROME (AP)-The Italian Marxist-Leninist Party, a radical group left of the Communists, has issued strict sex directives that are causing frustration among cell members. A party official acknowledged that only 30 per cent of the revolutionary party members have been able to live up to the official sex guidelines.

"One reason they fail," said Angelo Arvati, 30-year-old editor of the party publication, "is because of political differences between husbands and wives." In a manual presented by Secretary-General Aldo Brandirali, the party made sexual harmony one of its chief dic-"Only in that way," Brandirali said, "can one be serene the day after and begin a new day of struggle for the ultimate victory-edification of socialism."

Besides sexual harmony, the party program had warned against sexual intercourse more than once a day, claiming: "All that about virility and making love more than once in one night is a bourgeois myth and reflects the theory that women are sex objects.' Brandirali, 32 and married, links sex and politics because "sex without class consciousness cannot give satisfaction even if it is repeated until infinity." The party has no representation in the Italian Senate or Chamber of Deputies. However, it participates in elections. Its members are believed to number a few thousand lite Group, through cooperation but there is no exact count.

communications satellites.' The Aggie amateurs, who prefer to use their call sign in conjunction with their name, made the contacts using International Morse Code. Corky Sarvis, WB5CIT, operated the transmitter and code key, and Dave Williams, WB5FLB, tuned the receiver and relayed antenna headings to the antenna crew.

"Tracking" of the OSCAR 6 was accomplished by the antenna team headed by Ron Hollis, WA5ZEV, who held the transmitting antenna and directed its signal path. Determination of antenna headings and orbital path prediction was accomplished by the only unlicensed member of the crew, Randy Crews.

Freiberger noted that the students are limited to two 10 to 20minute contacts through OSCAR per week. The time limitation is placed on the satellite due to a narrow "window" of favorable operating levels as the craft passes overhead.

Users are asked to limit their contacts to two per week to allow on-board batteries to recharge with solar energy. OSCAR is an active relay device, retransmitting signals instead of merely 'bouncing" them back to earth, as is the case with ECHO and other reflective communications satellites.

The craft is available for use by any amateur with the proper antenna, transmitter and receiver, Freiberger said. Optimum operating frequencies are 145 Megahertz for transmitting and 29.5 Megahertz for receiving.

TAMU's Radio Committee boasts 40 members this year. David Gent is chairman of the committee, which meets every other Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the MSC Student Programs Office.

Freiberger said the group will establish contact with the satellite again Friday evening, operating from Room 211 of Bizzell Hall, temporary location for the club's radio equipment.

OSCAR is sponsored and maintained by AmSat, Amateur Satelwith governmental space agencies.

APO Conducts Blood Drive

The Aggie Blood Drive has been set Nov. 7-8 in the Memorial Student Center, student officials announced.

A joint effort of the Student Government and Alpha Phi Omega, the drives semester benefit TAMU students and their families.

Members of APO headed by Mike Bunch will conduct the twoday drive in cooperation with personnel of the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine in

The Campus Projects Committee chaired by Larry McRoberts will be responsible for establishing distribution priorities. Mc-Roberts said present priority is students and their families. TAMU faculty-staff and former students, in that order.

Advance registration for the fall Aggie Blood Drive will be Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. Donors may sign up for the drive at stations in the MSC, Krueger-Dunn Commons, near Sbisa Hall and in front of the Academic Building.

Bunch urged students to sign up. For the entire TAMU student body to become eligible, in event of need, to draw blood from the bank, at least one student in 20 must contribute.
