

Fugitive Financier Arrested For Embezzlement of Funds

NASSAU, BAHAMA (AP) — Fugitive financier Robert L. Vesco was arrested Tuesday at his Nassau bank on a federal warrant seeking his extradition to the United States.

Vesco, 37, was picked up in the offices of his Bahamas Commonwealth Bank by Asst. Police Commissioner John Crowley on a U. S. arrest warrant.

Vesco was released on $75,000 cash bond as an extradition hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Vesco's financial documents were confiscated and he was told not to try to leave the Bahamas without official permission.

The U. S. attorney's office said the arrest was based on a July 20 fraud indictment accusing Vesco of falsifying records of a firm he headed to cover up the embezzlement of some of the firm's funds.

Vesco is also a codefendant with former U. S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and ex-Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans in a conspiracy case in which the two former Cabinet officers are accused of obstructing justice.

The Bahamian Atty. Gen.'s office said U. S. authorities asked for the extradition on Nov. 1 and swore out the arrest warrant the next day. There was no explanation for the delay in the arrest.

Ronald Spies, U. S. ambassador to the Bahamas, said late Tuesday that the U. S. would be represented by an as yet unselected Nassau attorney at the extradition hearing.

Bahamian Foreign Minister Paul Adderly said he signed the extradition warrant after receiving what he called a "proper" request from Spies last Thursday.

Adderly said in September that inaction by U. S. officials, not island officials, was causing a delay in acting on the possible extradition.

He accused the U. S. Justice Department of not responding to requests from the Bahamian Chief Magistrate for more legal information on the U. S. charges against Vesco.

Adderly said the Bahamas "has been subjected to a considerable amount of ill-informed comment" from the press in connection with U. S. efforts in the extradition.

"Most, if not all, this comment has by accident or design been calculated to convey the impression that the judiciary in the Bahamas has in some way been at fault or indeed has improperly conspired to refuse to have him Vesco returned to the United States," Adderly said in a Sept. 14 press conference.

Opened only last Wednesday, the fraud indictment accused him of falsifying records of a firm he headed to cover up the embezzlement of $50,000 of its funds, which were sent to a Swiss bank in 1972.

Class Reunions Set for Weekend

TAMU's Classes of 1928 and 1953 will reunite Nov. 9-11 for the Aggie-SMU football game.

Association of Former Students officials expect 650 persons for social activities, business meetings, the 1:30 p. m. game and campus tours.

Some of them will be involved in the Association's fall Council meeting Saturday morning at the Zachry Engineering Center.

Mrs. Olive DeLucia, association class programs director, noted that the Class of '53 will probably have 400 to 500 participants, similar to the Class of '43 reunion attendance Oct. 26-28.

The Class of '28, headquartered at the Holiday Inn-South, expects 150. Dr. W. R. "Bill" Carmichael is class agent. An education professor at Sam Houston State, he was the A&M athletic director and former Bryan schools superintendent.

Class members include Edward J. Mosher, TAMU Distinguished Alumnus and board chairman of Mosher Steel in Houston. Active in various Association and university projects, he is a past member of the Former Students' executive committee and Century Club charter member. Mosher is a trustee of the Texas A&M Research Foundation.

Retired business professor Dr. W. E. Eckles, former Executive Development Program director, graduated in the Class of '28.

Class Agent Joel Austin of Alice and Mrs. DeLucia have lined up '53 activities at the Ramada Inn. The class will have its own Sunday chapel services at the All Faiths Chapel after a campus bus tour.

Class members include Dean of Admissions and Records Edwin H. Cooper, Director of Admissions Dr. Bill G. Lay, Bryan insurance man Jerry Barton and Dr. J. T. L. McNew, Charles Cargill, University Center manager; Dr. James H. Earle, Engineering Graphics Department head; Philip Hamman, Agricultural Extension Service entomologist, and Charles Hornstein, international students advisor.

AGGIE PLAYERS PREPARE FORUM. Crews hung lights and made other preparations on the weekend for last night's opening of the Aggie Players production, "The Devil's Disciple," in the Forum. The play runs through Saturday and is the first performance in the 250-seat theater of the new Rudder Center auditorium complex. Kent Brown does the balancing act on the ladder.

Government Reps To Discuss Fuel

The energy crisis will be discussed by representatives of government and science Friday at TAMU.

A panel composed of Cong. Olin "Tiger" Teague, chairman, Science and Astronautic Committee, U. S. House of Representatives; Dr. H. Guyford Stever, director, National Science Foundation; William Anders, former astronaut and present commissioner on the Atomic Energy Committee on the Energy Crisis, Texas House of Representatives, will discuss potential solutions to the energy crisis during the annual trustee and councillor meeting of the Texas A&M Research Foundation.

The panel discussion, which will be moderated by Engineering Dean Fred J. Benson, is scheduled at 10 a. m. in Room 701 of the Earl Rudder Conference Center on the A&M Campus.

Dr. Stever's participation in the discussion is in conjunction with his Thursday night appearance in the TAMU Lecture Series. He will discuss "New Directions for Science and Technology" in the Main

Buy the BSR 710 or 810.

Either way you'll get the shaft.

The BSR 810 and 710 have their brains in their shaft. A carefully machined metal rod holding eight precision-molded cams. When the cam shaft turns, the cams make things happen. A lock is released, an arm raises and swings, a record drops, a platter starts spinning, the arm is lowered, the arm stops, the arm raises again, it swings back, another record is dropped onto the platter, the arm is lowered again, and so on, for as many hours as you like.

Deluxe turntables from other companies do much the same thing, but they use many more parts—scads of separate swinging arms, gears, plates, and springs—in an arrangement that is not nearly as mechanically elegant, or as quiet or reliable; that produces considerably more vibration, and is much more susceptible to mechanical shock than the BSR sequential cam shaft system.

When you buy a turntable, make sure you get the shaft. The BSR 710 and 810. From the world's largest manufacturer of automatic turntables.
