State

HOUSTON — John A. Love, the President's chief energy adviser, said Monday that gasoline rationing is indicated for the beginning of 1974.

He said there are no signs of a quick change in the Arab nations' embargo on shipping oil to the United States, and even when it is listed he thinks that "we will not see, certainly immediately, a rebound to the levels of production that existed before this started."

National

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — The space agency called off Thursday's planned launching of the Skylab 3 astronauts because new cracks were discovered in the Saturn 1B rocket.

The Skylab program director, William C. Schneider, said Monday there was a possibility of a Friday liftoff, "but the chances are iffy at best."

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court rejected a plea for new, more definite guidelines on the constitutional use of the death penalty.

The justices declined to hear an appeal brought by an Ithaca, N. Y., prosecutor who said his case "presents the very heart of the capital punishment debate" that followed the court's treatment of the issue last year. The court agreed to decide whether government-owned advertising media must accept political advertisements.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — A gang of black men abducted a white man and his black wife from their car, doused the husband with an inflammable liquid and set him afire, police said Monday.

The husband was hospitalized with third-degree burns. "It was obviously racially motivated," a police spokesman said. "The wife was not physically harmed although she was shaken up."

Lompop, Calif.

— Donald H. Segretti, sentenced to six months in October to violating federal election laws during the 1972 Florida presidential primary, surrendered Monday at the secluded minimum security Lompop prison camp to begin a term that could end in four months with good behavior.

programmed. "Of course I'm delighted when these dorms do become programmed because there are so many advantages and benefits," Blatchley said. "One of the most basic reasons for such a fee is one of simple economics. The power of the dollar in multiples is far greater than a single individual's $5 bill."

Blatchley also said that virtually any program could be accomplished through the help of the residents in a particular hall.

Presently 13 dorms on the TAMU campus are programmed. Some of the halls collect for both semesters at the beginning of the fall semester in order to facilitate the bookkeeping process and to have on-hand cash for a major fall event. Students are entitled to a return of half their money if they move out of that hall at the end of the fall semester.

Blatchley said the collection of the fee for the fall semester will be made upon receipt of a room key, which is acquired only after all other University requirements for moving into a resident hall are met.

If one moves from one hall to another and a refund is in order (by decision of the hall council) the student must collect the refund. If the hall the student is moving into is programmed, it will collect the activity fee when the student receives his room key.

Spring fee collection will take place at the time a person reserves a room for the semester. Unless the student pays the fee at this time he will be unable to reserve a room.

If, by chance, said Blatchley, one misses the room reservation process during the time he can sign up for his hall, he will be required to sign an agreement with the Housing Office which states that the student will pay the activity fee during the first week of classes for that semester if that student wants to move into a programmed hall.

AN ESSAY QUESTION! GOOD GRIEF! I'M DOOMED!!

SHOULD I JUST ADMIT I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THE QUESTION, OR SHOULD I TRY TO FAKE MY WAY THROUGH IT?

IF I ADMIT I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING, I FAIL FOR SURE! BANG! THAT'S IT! NO WAY! HOWEVER, IF I FAKE IT, I'VE GOT AT LEAST A MILLION-TO-ONE CHANCE...

SO HERE I GO!!

THIS TEST IS TOO HARD...

YOU KNOW WHAT WE NEED, MA'AM? WE NEED WHAT WE NEED, MA'AM?

WHAT WE NEED IS A GOOD OLD-FASHIONED OPEN-BOOK TEST... I'M GOOD AT THOSE...

YOU TELL ME WHAT BOOK TO OPEN, AND I'LL OPEN IT!!!

Texas Officials Consider Energy Crisis Proposals

Outlook for a bleak winter grew steadily worse as the energy crisis mounted.

Speed limit reductions and year-around daylight savings time, recommended by President Richard Nixon, may be some of the milder results.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, assessing the president's proposals and reaction of other states before announcing his own program, said gasoline rationing is an "eventuality that will have to be considered."

Grimmest of all was Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon's forecast: "Some people in Texas are going to be cold this winter." Those who use butane, propane or electricity for their heating are the ones most likely to get the shivers, said Langdon.

Middle distillate fuels, used primarily to generate electricity—and of increasing importance due to the shortage of natural gas—may also be in short supply as much as 400,000 barrels daily, according to Langdon's estimate.

Meanwhile, the Nixon administration altered previously announced allocation policies to allow middle distillate suppliers to provide Texas customers diesel fuel, fuel oil and kerosene without limit through November.

Even in the reprieve from mandatory allocations, there was an implied warning to Texas electric utility companies: come December they may be running short of fuel oil, since allocation formulas are based on 1972 purchases. Most Texas utilities, used to plenty of natural gas, didn't use much fuel oil to fire their boilers in 1972.

Things apparently are going to get a lot worse before they get better on the energy front.
