

A&M's Bartosh up for Head TCU Coaching Post

Tohill Looking at Coaching Position with Southwestern Louisiana

A&M receiver coach Gil Bartosh is scheduled to be interviewed Friday by TCU as the Horned

Frogs continue their search for a head coach replacement for the recently fired Billy Tohill.

He was an all-SWC back at TCU in 1950 after being an all-state back at Granger High.

Tennessee. Akers played college ball at Arkansas and was a Texas high school coach before joining the University of Texas staff in 1966. Akers has said he is "extremely interested" in the TCU coaching job.

Tohill said he wished to remain a head coach and indicated he might take the Louisiana position if the offer was good enough.

Women's Athletics Boosted

AUSTIN (AP)—Assistant sports editor Herb Holland of the Daily Texan says he hopes to ask the Southwest Conference at its Dec. 6 meeting in Dallas about integrating SWC athletics — with women.

Holland said campus editors and sports editors at the eight SWC schools agree unanimously that such a move must be promoted. He said his colleagues have agreed to circulate petitions.

He said he did not see how SWC athletic directors and faculty representatives could argue with including women in SWC sports. "Government-funded schools can lose federal funds if they discriminate because of sex, race or national origin," Holland said.

By allowing women to take part in SWC athletics, he said, "The SWC could be trend-setting. This would be the best thing that has happened to the SWC in a long time because it would get them a lot of publicity and prestige. Rather than being behind the times, as it has been in the past, it would be ahead. The SWC needs this."

Holland's remarks were printed in a story in the Texan, campus newspaper at the University of Texas.

Last year, Bartosh coached the Odessa Permian Panthers to the Class 4A state championship.

He followed star players Dennis Smelser, Grady Wilkerson and David Shipman when he came to A&M in April.

He coached at Houston Milby High School from 1959 through 1961 and was at Houston Lee from 1962 through 1964. He served on the Rice University staff before going to Odessa Permian.

In two seasons at Permian he compiled a 23-1 record. His overall record as a head coach in high schools is 81 wins, 16 losses and two ties. His teams won or shared 11 district titles.

Also scheduled for interviews for the position are Hunter Enis, Jim Wright and Freddy Akers. Enis, a former Frog quarterback who coached at TCU and later with the Denver Broncos, is now living in Fort Worth and is in private business.

Wright played quarterback at A&M under Paul "Bear" Bryant before coaching at Texas Tech and Mississippi State. He is presently chief offensive coach at TCU in 1950 after being an all-state back at Granger High. Former TCU star Jim Shofner (all-SWC in 1957) is also being considered for the job and many people feel he is the best bet, Shofner is an assistant with the San Francisco 49ers.

Two other coaches, including one with the Miami Dolphins, have also expressed interest, but have not yet set up interviews. TCU chancellor James Moudy, who fired Tohill, said he would like for the school to have a new coach by Dec. 15. Tohill's removal is effective the end of the season, or Saturday's game with the SMU Mustangs in Dallas.

Tohill, meanwhile, is to discuss the head coaching job at Southwestern Louisiana this week.

Southwestern Louisiana was winless this season.

Tohill was contacted by Southwestern Louisiana shortly after being relieved as Frog coach.

Tohill's TCU contract has two more years remaining and Moudy has said it will be honored.

"I'd rather be working" Tohill said. "I don't want to draw a salary from anybody without giving them something in return. I want to coach, but I want a job I'll like."

He indicated that rather than take a less attractive head coaching job he would take an assistant's job at a school "with a good football program."

NFL Bout Crucial to Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Coach Tom Landry, who takes his Cowboys to Denver Sunday for a crucial National Football League game with Denver, said Tuesday it's been an unusual year for the former Super Bowl champions. "I've never had a team work harder and play more consistently good... yet we're 7-4," Landry said. "It's worth noting that this club has been unusually hard working. We have come out each Sunday and been competitive. In the past, when we didn't have it we were beaten 38-0."

Landry said he expects the Broncos to be sky high for the Cowboys.

"Denver and Atlanta are the two hottest teams in the league right now," Landry said. "It's tough catching a hot team in their home park."

Landry said Dallas still could decide its own fate.

"It's not too late to gain momentum to the Super Bowl," said Landry who has guided his team to a record seven consecutive NFL playoff berths.

"Things can turn around quick. Look at what has happened to Pittsburgh. Three weeks ago it looked like they were on a gravy train."

To win the Eastern Division of the American Conference, the Cowboys must win their last three games and defeat Washington (8-3) by eight or more points when the clubs meet in Texas Stadium Dec. 9.

Landry said wide receiver Bob Hayes, who has a badly bruised shoulder, may not be ready to go against the Broncos.

Scribes Favor SMU Cagers; A&M Third

LUBBOCK (AP) — Southern Methodist University, with four starters returning from last year's team, has been picked as pre-season choice to win the 1974 Southwest Conference basketball title in the ninth annual Lubbock Avalanche-Journal poll.

In a poll of 13 sports writers who regularly cover the SWC, SMU gathered seven first place votes to six for defending conference champion Texas Tech. On the basis of eight points for first place, seven for second, etc., SMU polled 97 points to 95 for Texas Tech. Texas A&M was third with 69 points followed by Texas with 64, Baylor 57½, TCU 34½, Arkansas 31½ and Rice 19½.

Two SMU performers, 6-7 senior Sammy Hervey and 6-7 soph Ira Terrell, shared the honor of Player of the Year. Ted Jones the 6-4 forward transfer from Hender County Junior College at Athens and now playing at TCU, was selected the Newcomer of the Year.

Hervey and Terrell were voted to the pre-season all-conference team along with 6-6 Larry Robinson and Harry Larrabee, both of Texas, and 6-3 guard Richard Little of Texas Tech. Hervey, Terrell and Little were all-conference last winter.
