

Abilene's Moser Joins Coaching Staff

Receiver Coach Bartosh Leaves for Position at UTEP

Athletic Director Emory Bellard announced Monday that Charles (Chuck) Moser, athletic director of Abilene schools, will join the Aggie football staff, replacing Gil Bartosh who has accepted the head coaching job at University of Texas-El Paso.

Moser, who coached the Abilene High Eagles to 49 straight wins and three straight 4-A state titles during the mid-fifties, will become the offensive backfield coach at Texas A&M.

"Bartosh did an excellent job for us and we wish him well in his new position," Bellard said. "We are extremely pleased and feel fortunate to get a man of Moser's capabilities to join our staff."

Moser said, "I'm thrilled to work for the opportunity to work for Coach Bellard. The head coach is the most important factor in a football program and I just want the chance to help Coach Bellard and Texas A&M. I believe he is building a winning program."

Moser, a native of Chillicothe, Mo., was an all-conference center at the University of Missouri where he obtained a bachelor's degree in physical education and science and a master's degree in school administration.

He started his coaching career at Lexington (Mo.) High; served in the Air Force during world War II with the rank of major and then resumed coaching at McAllen (Tex.) High. He went from there to Abilene where in seven years, his Eagles won six district titles and three state championships.

He was carried to the former Doris Woodley of Sabinal, Tex., in 1942. They have two daughters; Mrs. Jane Drumm of Austin and Glenn Moser, an elementary school teacher in San Antonio.

He is due to report about mid-January.

Hacker Makes World Team

A&M's Jim Hacker was named to the All-Tournament team at the recently completed World Amateur Baseball Tournament in Managua, Nicaragua.

The United States team on which Hacker played third base, won the world title with a 10-0 record. Hacker, a senior from Temple, batted .333, had nine runs batted in and five stolen bases.

"The championship game was really something," Hacker reported. "We beat Nicaragua 1-0 in 11 innings. There were 40,000 people in a 22,000-seat stadium and there were firecrackers on the field after nearly every pitch. It was a great experience. You learn to appreciate simple things like a glass of water and a hot shower."

Each member of the winning team was given a gold medal. Hacker earned a spot on the select squad by being named to the All-America Amateur team this past summer for his play with the Boulder (Colo.) Collegians. Hacker hit .442 at Boulder.
