

Where I Stand

the views of Bob Bell candidate for mayor of College Station

ZONING: Zoning as a concept for orderly and controlled growth of a city is good. However, RANDOM RE-ZONING which disrupts or spoils established neighborhoods is not good. Long range growth patterns and organized developments by companies or individuals should consider existing and established conditions before seeking changes in zoning. If other alternatives exist, I would not look with favor on "random re-zoning" that would disrupt existing neighborhoods.

Long range planning for urban development, business growth, adequate transportation and related matters must be provided by city government and those parties which will be the actual development. In this manner there is a more orderly growth pattern and less "random re-zoning."

U.S. rights stressed

Candidate for Vice President of Academic Affairs Jeff Dunn bases his campaign on his experience as a senator and affiliation with the Academic Affairs committee. Dunn, a sophomore economics major, said he was in favor of a choice of professors program and class schedules. "I'm also for academic freedom . . . consisting of all rights guaranteed to all students on the basis we are legal adults," said Dunn. "This includes my total support for the Student Bill of Rights and all other rights given by the U. S. Constitution."

OPTIONAL FEES. "Students should pay a few fees as possible," said Dunn, "and certain optional fees would cause undue hardships on students. I oppose such optional fees if they cause market increases to students."

PROFESSOR EVALUATIONS. "I'm for going through with publication of these evaluations and giving students choice of professors" said Dunn. He continued saying that such a publication should include the students' evaluation of the professors plus the professor's evaluation of himself and what is expected in his classes.

LIQUOR ON-CAMPUS. "Drinking is a personal matter for each individual to decide. As long as the rights of non-drinkers are not in jeopardy I am in favor of possession and sale on-campus," said Dunn.

SG SALARIES. Dunn opposed paid positions in Student Government and felt persons in executive offices should be periodically reviewed by the Senate.

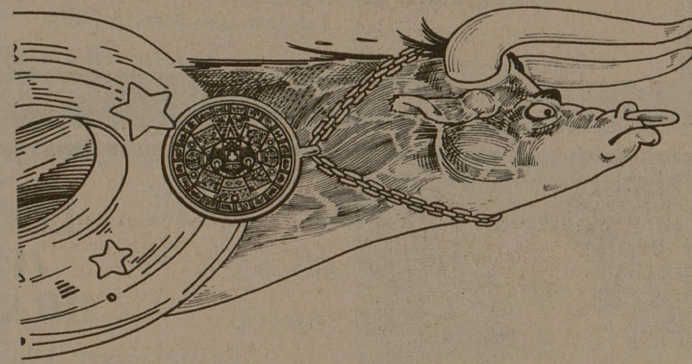

PUNISHMENT. "Each case has to be reviewed individually," continued Dunn. "Students should be treated as legal adults in all cases under due process of law."

COED DORMS. Dunn said he was in favor and willing to work for coed housing if the students were interested and the idea was feasible.

ACADEMIC COUNCIL. "I'm in favor of students being represented on that council with a vote," said Dunn.

SHUTTLE BUS. "I'm in favor of a mass transit system," said Dunn, adding that at this point in time the shuttle bus needed to be subsidized by Student Service Fees.

Despite her freshman standing, Shannon Walker feels she is qualified for the position of Vice President of Academic Affairs.

"I am acquainted with the problems on campus and the needs of the students," said Walker. "I am presently a senator and consider myself to have enough knowledge in the subject of academic affairs."

The political science major has put student choice of professors, classes and published evaluations on the top of her campaign list. "We're the only major school without it (choice of professors)," said Walker. She continued to say that people should have the opportunity to choose class times in order to have a schedule that works best for them.

OPTIONAL FEES. "I'm in favor of optional fees if it benefits the majority of the people, but I am not yet convinced that optional athletic fees and optional laundry is the best way," said Walker.

PROFESSOR EVALUATION. "If I am elected I plan to try a pilot program the last two weeks of school in one of the colleges," said Walker. She added that the survey would be one similar to Harvard's and results would be published during the summer.

LIQUOR ON-CAMPUS. "I'm for students being able to consume liquor in dorm rooms, but I don't like the policy as it is now," said Walker. The sale of liquor on-campus needs more investigation, she said.

SG SALARIES. Walker said

Student Government executive officers should not be paid because there are already enough benefits without pay.

PUNISHMENT. "There should be an established maximum penalty, but each case should be reviewed individually before punishment is set," said Walker.

COED DORMS. Floor to floor coed housing would be ok and worthwhile to look into, said Walker.

ACADEMIC COUNCIL. "Students should have more than a token membership," said Walker, "and the minimum membership should be all student leaders in ex-officio positions."

SHUTTLE BUS. Walker said the shuttle bus ought to be subsidized through Student Services Fees, but she also felt more studies should be made on the matter.
