Cardenas, sponsored by the Mexican-American Student Organization, is a consultant to the Office of Civil Rights.

"Mexican - American students are placed in a white, Englishspeaking middle class school and told that the language their mother speaks is wrong, that they were bad guys at the Alamo and that they are low-class students," he said.

"It's like putting a round peg in a square hole. It just won't fit. Now, the peg and the square hole taken separately are fine, but put together, they just won't work,"

Cardenas cited study after study that showed five basic trends in Mexican-American education. Throughout the nation, studies showed 50 to 90 per cent of Mexican-American students leave school before the 12th grade. master a second language, but if a minority student cannot have better than a 50-50 chance for high school graduation," Cardenas said. "Twenty per cent of the migrant children never even enroll in schools.

"And those who stay in have a poor showing, with a seventh grade Mexican-American lagging two years behind the national norm for average seventh graders. Eighty-three per cent fail at lease one grade, too. But the worst part is that many Mexican-American students are placed in special education classes for mentally retarded children. My God, there must be something wrong with a system like that! "The cultural background of Latins is virtually ignored in textbooks and teaching aids, and teachers seem unwilling to encourage bilingual educational development. In Europe students are not considered educated until they

"THE ADAPTABILITY concept saying the child should adapt to a different culture is asinine and can be psychologically damaging. Schools now help blind and physically retarded children, why not Mexican - Americans?" Cardenas

"The overall philosophical views of minorities must change to consider our children as capable of learning and contributing to society. We must change school policies to encourage minority input in all activities especially the curriculum.

"The lack of understanding counselors and Mexican-American educators cannot continue. Not even Texas A&M is educating students on how to handle minority groups in the classroom," Car-

He noted that the government is pouring some money into various bilingual programs throughout the nation, but said the programs are spread too thin to be effective. Another obstacle was the lack of funds in local school districts where, he charged, the basic educational needs of Mexican-Americans are clearly ig-

TRANSCENDENTAL MEDITATION IS

Levels of Rest

Thousands of Americans are testing Transeendental Meditation (TM) as a technique for reducing tension and boosting clarity of thought.

Strentific studies at such research institutions as Harvard and Stanford have reported that during LM, a deeper rest occurs than even during sleep. The rest eliminates stress, thus allowing for greater efficiency and energy during our daily activity. Research has indicated that those practicing TM ex-bilit more creativity and intelligence, faster reac-tion time, increased learning ability, and impro- cd personality.

dynamic action from deep rest

> Improved Academic Performance

TM is a simple, natural mental technique practiced for 15-20 minutes daily it is easy to learn and fast in results.
