USC triumphs at Dallas meet

Aggies turn in disappointing performance

By TED BORISKIE
Assistant Sports Editor
The A&M track squad offered its worst performance of the season at the Dallas Invitational Track Meet Saturday, finishing last in the seven-team meet.
Nothing seemed to go right for the injured Aggies as they failed to place a man higher than third in any event and scored points in only four.
USC took the team championship with 147 points followed by Texas with 119 and the University of Texas at El Paso with 92. Oklahoma State was far back in third with 43 while Rice had 39, SMU 28 and the Aggies rounded out the scoring with 15.
The meet was not without impressive performances, however, as UTEP's Chris Garpenborg sped to a wind-aided 9.1 in the 100-yard dash and schoolboy Bill Blessing of Dallas Hillcrest set a national high school record in the 330-yard hurdles with a 35.9 second effort.

The meet started out on a foreboding note for the Aggies as Bill Newton failed to place in the javelin, the only finals held in the morning. Newton, throwing with a sore knee injured in a non-track related accident Wednesday, got off a throw of 181 feet in the preliminaries. The mark, although 36 feet short of his best effort of the season, was enough to qualify him for the finals but intense pain prevented him from participating further.
Stellar sprinter Sam Dierschke's groin injury, suffered last week in the College Station Relays, prevented the Aggies from fielding a 440-yard relay team but the Southwest Conference was well represented as SMU won the event with a 40.1 clocking. USC had a three-yard lead after the third leg but a terrible handoff and a great anchor by SMU's Gene Pouncy gave the race to the Mustangs. The Trojans had to be satisfied with third place and a time of 40.4 behind UTEP's 40.2. Texas failed to make the final handoff for the third straight week.
UTEP's Wilson Waigwa ran away from all other runners in the mile, breaking the tape with a 4:10.4 timing. After an excruciating slow opening two laps, Waigwa burst to the lead, never to be challenged. Texas' Reed Fischer was 20 yards behind and losing ground as Waigwa crossed the finish.

Longhorn Nate Robinson was a surprise winner in the 120-yard high hurdles, besting a good field with a time of 13.8. Scottie Jones turned in the best performance of the day for A&M, placing third behind USC's O. G. Williams.
Texas' Don Sturgal returned to his winning ways after getting off to a slow start the first of the season. Sturgal breezed to a 46.7 first in the 440-yard dash, edging USC's Trevor Campbell at the tape. Doug Brodhead finished sixth for the Aggies with a 49.4.
The Aggies saw the last of their big hopes dashed in the running of the 100-yard dash as Charles Dawson pulled up after running the first third of the race in the lead with Garpenborg.
"I must have hurt my leg last week," said Dawson. "It was hurting the first part of the week but I thought it was just the cold weather."
The injury also prevented Dawson from competing in the 220, which SMU's Joe Pouncy took in a breeze with a 20.6.

Tom Andrews of Southern Cal raced to a 51.4 time in the 330-yard hurdles to outclass the rest of the field which included A&M's Shifton Baker and Craig McPhail, who finished fifth and sixth, respectively. Both Baker and McPhail won their preliminary heats.
The Aggie mile relay team managed to look impressive in posting its best time of the season with a 3:12.3 as Brodhead came from behind to nip Rice's Lin Bingham at the tape. USC was first with a 3:07.5 with Texas runner-up at 3:09.0.
Other winners include USC's James Baxter in the 880 with a time of 1:50.1; Longhorn Bishop Dolegiewic with a 62-3/4 mark in the shot put; and Gerald Hardeman of USC with a 26-1/4 leap in the long jump.
Texas' Tim Patton won the three-mile run with a time of 14:02.5 while Larry Jessee of UTEP was tops in the pole vault, clearing 17-4.
Blessing had a little trouble with the first third of the intermediate hurdles but soon caught stride to win easily. He bettered a mark of 36.3 set in 1972 and had set the national high school record in the 120-yard high hurdles earlier this season with a 13.4. He ran a 13.5 in winning at Dallas.

Aggie duffers finish ninth
Texas A&M golf team placed ninth teamwise behind first place Texas in the Morris Williams Golf Tournament over the past weekend.
Steve Whiteside was low for A&M with a 224. Second was Al Pryor with 228, followed by Charles White with 233, Monte Schauer with 234 and Gail Mayfield with 235.
The Ags will be competing in the All-American Intercollegiate Tournament hosted by University of Houston during the second week in April.

Spring rally results funny

The Texas A&M Sports Car Club held a spring rally on Saturday with some humorous results.
Bob Chaney was given the dubious honor of "most original scoresheet." Chaney got lost and spent the time writing a small essay in answer to the questions on the rally sheet.
Steve Goble won the award for best genuflection. A checkpoint rule required that a car's occupant genuflect three before presenting his scoresheet. Apparently Goble's two-kneed effort was tops. His "Indian Paintbrush," Frank, also was the winner in the plant identification category.
Vernon Anderson and Delbert Stanley took first in a Corvette just ahead of Pat White and Dennis Krisey in a Vega.
Casey Stengel and partner Corish in a BMW were the only other team to find the finish line out of 14 starters.
Rallymaster Bill Williams pointed out that Anderson would conduct a school on how to run a rally at the TAMSCC meeting on April 10 for those interested. He will have final examinations on the 13th.

PEANUTS

By Charles M. Schulz

Dear Contributor, We think your new story is magnificent.

We want to print it in our next issue, and will pay you One Thousand dollars. P.S. April Fool!

Dutch Waltz, the famous skater, was worried. His skating partner, Chil Blain, was in love.

While playing a show in Denver, she had become involved with a cowboy named Martin Gale. THE STORY ISN'T MUCH, BUT THE NAMES ARE GREAT!

Volleyball game on tap tomorrow

President and captain Dan Bideau of the A&M volleyball team announced the club's first home game.
The first Aggie volleyball team fielded will host one of the state's better teams in the Conroe YM-CA'ers at 7 p.m. Wednesday in DeWare Fieldhouse.
There will be no admission charge for the game.
