(Continued from page 1) kidnaping. "... In the future no prisoners of the ruling class or its executive agents will be taken prisoner," he said. "The Court of the People this date issues the following order: All corporate enemies of the people will be shot on sight at any time and at any place."

The revelations of the 20-minute tape recording left authorities perplexed. "If she now is saying she was never taken against her will, then you don't have a crime," U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said. "Partially out of fairness to the victim, I suppose, and partially if you have a victim unwilling to prosecute, you may not be able to convince anybody that anybody's guilty," Browning said.

The FBI agent in charge of the case, Charles Bates, said he did not know whether Patricia was staying of her own free will. "I don't feel it makes any difference in our investigation," he said. The taped message was delivered to a San Francisco radio station one day after another "communicate" that promised details of Miss Hearst's release would be provided within 72 hours. That message had signaled an apparent end to the two-month Hearst family ordeal during which $2 million in free food was given away and another $4 million pledged to secure the young woman's release.

Patricia's 18-year-old sister Ann arrived at the family home in suburban Hillsborough moments after the tape was delivered. "I know Patty far too well to think she'd come around like that. She only hears one side of the story... I don't believe it. She's too bull-headed."

But on the tape, the latest in a series of suddenly delivered communications from the terrorist group, Patricia said: "I have learned how vicious the pig really is, and our comrades are teaching me to attack with even greater viciousness..."

Thomas O'Hare, program director of KSAN, the station to which the message was sent, said the envelope contained the tape, a typed transcript, a color photograph and a thin slip of paper which said the other half of Patricia's driver's license was included. But the document, the other half of which was received Tuesday, was not included.

The photograph showed Miss Hearst holding an automatic rifle and standing in front of a banner bearing the seven-headed cobra symbol of the SLA.

The man who identified himself as Cinque, SLA General Field Marshal, said in the tape recording: "There is no further need to discuss the release of the prisoner, since she is now a comrade and has been accepted into the ranks of the peoples' army as a comrade and fighter. And there is no further basis for negotiations since the subject may leave whenever she feels that she wishes to do so, and she is armed and perfectly willing and able to defend herself."

Miss Hearst was seized the evening of Feb. 4 at the apartment she shared with her fiancé, graduate student Steven Weed. Her abductors sprayed bullets behind them as they left and beat Weed, 26, and a neighbor.

The SLA, believed to be a multi-racial group of no more than 25 members, also declared certain "corporate enemies of the people" would be shot on sight. Three persons — two black men and one white woman — were said on the broadcast to be on a death list.
